Byrd To Fight Plan for Excise Tax Reductions

Other Senators Think Proposed Cuts Will Be Approved by Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) called today for a fight on pending proposals for excise tax cuts, saying they give the buyers of luxuries a better break than those whose purchases are necessities.

But other senators predicted the Senate would pass the pending excise tax bill substantially in the form it was approved yesterday by the Senate Finance Committee.

Prospects of Fight

It appeared likely the fight expected next week on the Senate floor will be on efforts to defeat further cuts rather than rescind those already written in.

The House wrote into the excise tax measure reductions that would add up to 912 million dollars loss in anticipated revenue. The Senate Finance Committee eliminated some of these reductions, but added more of its own, increasing the expected revenue loss to 962 million.

Most of the increase is accounted for by a proposal to end all admission taxes on movie tickets costing less than 60 cents. The House had provided merely for halving the tax on entertainment admissions.

There appeared to be overwhelming sentiment in the Senate for the cuts.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the finance committee predicted the Senate would go along with its action, although Byrd, a committee member and an advocate of balancing the budget before making major tax cuts, said there would be a floor fight on the excise reductions.

Expects No Changes

They gave their opinions in separate interviews.

Another finance committee member, Sen. Bennett (R-Utah), said last night he expects the Senate will make no substantial changes in the bill.

Appearing on the CBS radio program "Capitol Cloakroom," Bennett called attention to the portion of the bill that would extend some excise taxes beyond their scheduled expiration date, April 1.

Villages of Adelphi and Laurelville Hit by Storm

By The Associated Press

A windstorm—called an "unconfirmed tornado" by the Weather Bureau — hit the small towns of Laurelville and Adelphi for one frightening moment last night.

Nobody in either town was injured but roofs were blown off houses, garages were levelled and outbuildings destroyed.

Both towns—with less than 1,000 combined population—straddle the Pickaway, Ross and Hocking County lines in the hills of southern Ohio.

High Wind in Dayton

A strong wind, apparently part of the same storm front, earlier struck Dayton and the village of Arlington in Montgomery County about 75 miles northwest of Laurelville and Adelphi.

Exact damage estimates in both spots were unavailable, but Arlington officials calculated $35,000 worth of property was destroyed in an area 300 by 700 feet. Ten homes were severly damaged in Dayton.

An estimated $25,000 to $30,000 was caused in the hill country area.

The only fatalities appeared to be 4,000 chicks valued at $2,000. They were killed when a barn on the outside of Laurelville owned by Clifford Strouse was swept away. But several persons had close calls.

Gunshots Fired Into School in Kidnaping Try

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Police and sheriff's deputies combed the northwest Portland hills today for a man who fired several shots in a crowded school room while trying to kidnap 9-year-old George Brice III from the fashionable Catlin-Hillside School.

The boy's young mother, Mrs. George F. Brice Jr., her maid, Lizzie May Brown, and the faculty and some of the students at the school, helped foil the daring kidnap.

One of the teachers, Manvel Schauffler, 29, was shot in the left hand while struggling with the man—described by Mrs. Brice as being drunk or doped. Schauffler's wound was not serious.

Butch, the boy the kidnaper was after, didn't know anything had happened until later. He was outside taking gym at the time.

Indochina Reds Dig In Under Hail of Bombs

Vietminh Besieging Dien Bien Phu Work On Field Fortifications

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French bombed, strafed and raked with artillery fire the Vietminh rebel forces besieging Dien Bien Phu today. Some Communist-led troops were digging in only 200 yards from the main barbed wire barricades of the fortress.

In the 120th day of siege, defending ground forces clashed in minor skirmishes with rebel units probing the defenses of the northwest Indochinese stronghold in the heart of the mountainous Thai country which borders on Red China.

No Assaults

There were no screaming frontal assaults by the enemy, however, as marked the first four days of this first major open battle in the seven-year war against the forces of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh.

But Vietminh artillery continued to pour into the 24-square-mile French-held plain, and the enemy carried out elaborate digging-in operations hard on the fortified area. This indicated they intended to try to crush the French at Dien Bien Phu for their first major military victory of the war.

The French said the rebels relentlessly shelled ambulance planes coming into Dien Bien Phu bearing Red Cross markings, making it more and more difficult to evacuate the wounded from the area. There was no indication, however, how the transport, helicopter and parachute airlift which has supplied the encircled fortress was faring.

Ignore Cease Fire Plea

The Vietminh turned deaf ears on broadcast appeals from the French for a brief cease-fire to permit the removal of sick and wounded by plane. After the first series of wild, almost suicidal Vietminh attacks were repulsed early this week, the French agreed to stop shooting long enough to permit the rebels to gather up their casualties, piled high by withering fire from within the fortress.

The French continued to express confidence they can repel any assault the Vietminh can hurl at Dien Bien Phu. But the enemy could continue the siege of the fortress for months by digging in the surrounding hills and avoiding further infantry frontal attacks.

French fighters and bombers ranged over the area at will, blasting away with half-ton bombs, fire bombs, rockets and machinegun fire at the enemy positions. Fierce artillery duels also continued between the opposing forces.

Arrival of Spring Scheduled Tonight

Colder temperatures and snow flurries are forecast to usher in spring tonight.

Although winter weather will still prevail, spring is scheduled to arrive on the scene at 10:54 p.m.

Strong winds which developed during the night brought colder temperatures to Marion and area and the rain is predicted to change to snow flurries tonight. Low temperature tonight is to be around 30. Sunday will be mostly cloudy and cold.

Senate Hears Dulles Report On Military

Upholds Presidential Right To Take Nation Into War If Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says selectivity — in terms of weapons, time and places to fight—is the key to President Eisenhower's "new look" military program.

The secretary of state, testifying yesterday before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also put into focus his ideas about presidential powers to take the country into war without prior action by Congress.

Has Right To Act

Dulles said, in effect:

1. The President has the right under the Constitution to act "in the interests of the United States."

2. How he shall act in an emergency is a matter for his judgment, and in deciding he may take into account the fact that there are treaties, like the North Atlantic Pact and the Inter-American Defense Treaty, which set up special relationships between the United States and other countries.

3. Congress would be consulted if there were time.

4. In any case, Congress, the public and the President are likely to be in agreement on any defense action taken.

5. "The heart of the thing is that we can make aggression so expensive to the aggressor that it would not be worth while."

Senator Still Confused

After the three-hour question and answer session in which Dulles participated, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) who did much of the questioning, said he was still confused about the policy of "massive retaliation," mentioned earlier by Dulles and other administration spokesmen as a key point in the nation's new military planning.

But Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) said he believed he could describe the "massive retaliation" policy.

"What's wrong with you or the United States saying to Russia that "if you injure or threaten to injure us, we'll hit you with everything we have?"

Dulles replied that he had "used a few more words than you did, senator."

"Why?" Capehart asked.

"I'm secretary of state and you're a senator," Dulles replied with a smile.

BOMB VICTIMS DISPLAY BURNS. Two Japanese fisherman, among 23 accidentally showered with radioactive ash from the March 1 thermonuclear explosion at Bikini atoll, show burns. Dr. Kentaro Shimizu of Tokyo points to burns on one man's ear during Tokyo news conference.

Radiation Burn Drugs Tried on Jap Fishermen

New Medicants Help Build Up Corpuscles; Recovery Is Expected

TOKYO (AP)—Two new drugs will be used to treat radiation-burned Japanese fishermen showered by ash from a mighty hydrogen explosion at Bikini March 1, Tokyo University Medical Department announced today.

One is the American-developed EDTA (ethylen-diamin-tetraacetic acid). The other is Tokyo University's iriloysin, which Dr. Kentaro Shimizu said helps build up white corpuscles destroyed by radiation.

The two most seriously radiation-burned crewmen from the fishing ship Lucky Dragon, are being treated at Tokyo University Hospital. Their white corpuscle count today was reported down to 4,200 and 4,800 from 6,000 each earlier in the week.

The other 21 crewmen are hospitalized at Yaizu, about 120 miles southwest of Tokyo. They are in less serious condition.

Dr. John Morton, director of the U.S. Atom Bomb Casualty Commission at Hiroshima, said yesterday that even the most seriously burned fishermen would recover in a month.

The fishermen said they were showered with a fine white ash for two hours after they saw a tremendous explosion about 80 miles from their ship March 1.

U.S. officials have announced in Washington that it was a hydrogen explosion two to three times stronger than expected.

Japan's government took new steps to get its tuna industry back to normal after it was rocked by disclosure that some of the radiation-contaminated catch of the Lucky Dragon had gotten into local markets of 13 prefectures throughout Japan.

Tuna prices nosedived and fish went begging in the markets days after the disclosure.

Democrats Accused

McCarthy Lists 20 'Treason' Charges

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) accused the Democratic party of "twenty years of treason" on 20 counts last night and, casting Adlai Stevenson in the role of "attorney for the defense," called on him to plead guilty or not guilty.

In leading up to his charges against the Democratic party, McCarthy said:

"Tonight I shall place before the greatest of all juries, the American people, an indictment of twenty counts, picked at random, which at best constitute gross stupidity—or at worst, treason."

'Not Entire Picture'

"This does not constitute the entire picture," McCarthy said; "but just 20 counts in the indictment picked at random." He said "there is scarcely one of you who hear me but has had some personal tragedy linked to these acts of infamy."

"Twenty years of treason—twenty deeds of betrayal."

The senator, making a rebuttal to a March 6 speech of Stevenson's, accused the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee of using "the Communist method" of attacking him and the Republican party.

Stevenson, in Cambridge, Mass., said through a spokesman that he had "no comment" on McCarthy's speech, delivered at a banquet of the Milwaukee County Young Republican organization.

Stevenson had told a Democratic rally in Miami that the Republican party was "divided against itself, half McCarthy and half Eisenhower" and accused McCarthy of sowing "slander and disunion."

Phrase Gets Applause

McCarthy, who quickly accused Stevenson of a "vicious" personal attack on him, said in his speech last night that "Adlai turned some fine phrases at Miami." But, said the senator, "apparently Adlai would rather turn a clever phrase than to be truthful."

The phrase drew one of the big ovations of the night from the overflow, partisan crowd of more than 400 that packed a small banquet room at a downtown hotel.

The senator charged that Stevenson, in his speech at Miami,

Gambling Ring Smashed With Arrests of 25

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn authorities say they have smashed a three-million-dollar-a-year policy ring which may involve police officers and turn out to be "another" Harry Gross case.

The Brooklyn district attorney's office announced early today 25 arrests had been made in the alleged policy racket. Three of those seized were women.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Julius Helfand told Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz the ring "could not have been operated without the connivance and protection of police officers."

Wiretap evidence, Helfand added, indicates "these people were protected not only by the ordinary police officer but by officials higher than the rank of detective."

"Do we have another Gross case here?" Leibowitz asked.

The judge was referring to the smashing in 1950 of the 20-million-dollar a year bookmaking empire headed by Harry Gross, who said he paid a million a year for police protection. Gross now is in jail.

Twin-Engine C119 Crashes In Maryland

Pieces of Wreckage, Bodies Litter Field South of Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Twisted pieces of wreckage and parachute-draped bodies today littered a nearby cornfield where a big Air Force plane crashed in flames last night, killing all 18 aboard.

The plane, a twin-engine C119 which had left Bolling Air Force Base a few minutes earlier, was seen ablaze in the air moments before it plunged to earth on a farm 19 miles south of Annapolis.

Explodes Before Crash

It grazed the edge of a wooded area just off Maryland Route 2 and exploded at or shortly before the crash, scattering its victims over several acres of the rain-soaked farm.

A spokesman at the airbase said 12 passengers and six crewmen were aboard when the ship took off at 10:12 p.m. A watch found at the scene had stopped at 10:29.

The Bolling Public Information Office indicated it would be late today before identities of the victims were made known. First there was the grim task of identifying their bodies. Then relatives had to be notified.

An official said the plane, belonging to the 774th Troop Carrier Squadron based at Ardmore, Okla., had stopped at Bolling to refuel on a routine flight from Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., to Mitchel Field, N. Y.

Virtually all the victims appeared to have been U.S. military personnel. Pieces of sailors' uniforms were found on the fringes of the crash scene. There was also a sleeve bearing the chevrons of a Marine corporal.

Marines Stand Guard

A detachment of sailors and Marines from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis stood guard over the area as a group of investigators from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., examined the wreckage for clues to the cause of the tragedy.

For a radius of 500 yards pieces of the plane, bodies and parts of bodies lay under the harsh glare of ambulance and fire truck searchlights. Red-and-white striped parachutes had been spread over some of the victims.

Mrs. Robert Estep, who lives about a mile from where the plane crashed, said she saw it burning in the air as it roared over her house.

Mrs. Alice R. Ridgely, another resident, said it made "a terrible grinding sound—like a heavy truck in low gear." Seconds later she heard it crash and saw the surrounding area light up.

"The whole house seemed afire," she said.

Flames spread from the wreckage to surrounding brush and timber, but a heavy rain at the time and quick arrival of firemen from half a dozen southern Maryland communities prevented it from getting out of hand.

Dr. Elmer G. Linhardt, county medical examiner, was called on to help direct removal of the bodies.

The C119 crash came at almost the same time another Air Force plane, a B26 from Vance Air Force Base, Okla., crashed into a swampy area to the south, near Amelia, Va. Four persons perished in that mishap.

Gasoline Taken In Thefts at 2 County Farms

Theft of nearly 200 gallons of gasoline from two Marion County farms Friday night has been reported to Sheriff Glenn Obenour.

Harry Johnson notified the sheriff's office Friday night at 10:45 that approximately 130 gallons were stolen from a 250-gallon capacity tank on his farm on County Road 31 about one and one-half miles south of Meeker. He said a padlock was knocked off and the gasoline stolen.

At 9 a.m. today, Norman Withrow reported to Sheriff Obenour that a lock on his gasoline storage tank had been knocked off and approximately 50 gallons of gasoline removed. The Withrow farm is located on Route 203 just off the Keener Pike.

These are the second and third incidents of gasoline thefts reported by Sheriff Obenour within the last two months. On Jan 25 more than 100 gallons of gasoline were stolen from the Penry Sand and Gravel Pit in Prospect.

The sheriff's office is continuing its investigation of the thefts.

Farmers Plan To Plant At War-Expanded Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — American farmers will be operating close to their war-expanded capacity this year, despite the prospect of more surpluses, if they carry out planting plans reported to the government.

The Agriculture Department said yesterday that a survey taken March 1 indicated the acreage planted to crops this year may be down less than one per cent from a year ago even though storage facilities are crowded with the largest farm surplus in history.

Under crop control programs set up by the department, farmers had been urged to divert upwards of 25 million acres—or about seven per cent of last year's crop acreage—to non-crop uses, such as grasses and soil-building legumes.

The survey indicated that wheat plantings will be within the 63,500,000 acres alloted for this crop. It also assumed that the cotton acreage would be in line with the 21,400,000 acres alloted for that crop. But the prospective corn acreage was about the same as last year, although the government had urged a 10-million-acre reduction.

The department emphasized, however, that the acreages finally planted may turn out to be larger or smaller than indicated, by reason of weather conditions, price changes, labor supply, financial conditions, the crop control pro-

184-Mile Jaunt

Justice Douglas Sets Out On Long Hike to Capital

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and a party he described as "a little bigger than the Lewis and Clark expedition" set out from here early today on a 184-mile hike to Washington, D.C.

They expect to cover the distance in about eight days. Forty-five persons made up the party which struck out from Cumberland at 7 a.m.

The "expedition" will wind along the old Chesapeake & Ohio Canal from here to Washington. It resulted from a challenge by Douglas to editorial writers Merlo Pusey and Robert Estabrook of the Washington Post and Times-Herald.

They had written editorials favoring a federal parkway along the unused, government-owned canal. Douglas said this would mar its natural beauties and challenged them to walk it with him and see for themselves. They took him up, and naturalists and others quickly joined in.

In deference to some of his less-hardy companions, the mountain-climbing justice agreed to start the hike at North Branch, about five miles southeast of the city limits, instead of from the Western Maryland Railway Station in town.

Some of the party were outspoken about not wanting to hobble through briar patches, climb fences and skirt industrial developments on their way out of town.

Four Accidents Reported Here; All Are Minor

State Highway Patrol Reports Same Number On Highways in Area

Four minor traffic accidents were reported by city police today. State highway patrolmen also reported four accidents.

Today at 3:15 a.m. at E. Center St. and Kensington Pl., a car driven by Rex Slevenger, 19, of near Marysville and a car driven by James W. Hardacre, 36, of 114 N. State St. collided. There was minor damage to both vehicles.

At 4:56 a.m., in front of the Kroger parking lot on S. Prospect St., a parked car owned by Mary Margaret Eldridge, 70, of 335 Marion Ave. and one driven by Carol Landon of near Prospect figured in an accident. Minor damage resulted to both automobiles.

The other two accidents were Friday. First was at 11:22 a.m. at Main and George Sts. when a tractor and tank outfit operated by James E. Blankenship, 36, of Indianapolis, Ind., and a car driven by William A. Hough, 70, of near Marion collided. The car was slightly damaged.

Cars driven by Jack L. Kellogg, 17, of 948 Merkle Ave. and Patricia Walbauer, of 881 Merkle Ave. were involved in an accident yesterday at 12:01 p.m. at 893 Bellefontaine Ave. The Kellogg car was slightly damaged.

Four Patrol Accidents

Four accidents were investigated Friday night by state highway patrolmen of the Marion post.

A car driven by Joseph Lee Murphy, 18, of Morral, struck a truck driven by William E. Davis, 22, of Buffalo, W. Va., at 7:45 p.m. as both vehicles were heading south on Route 23 about one and one - half miles north of Route 4.

Murphy was taken to Marion City Hospital in a Gunder ambulance and was treated and released. Extent of his injuries was not known. He was given a citation to appear before Marion Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen on Monday to answer a charge of failure to stop witthin an assured clear distance.

The rear of the truck was damaged slightly, and moderate damage resulted to the front of the automobile, patrolmen reported.

Two Cars Leave Road

Two automobiles went off the road at identical spots within half an hour of each other: At 8 p.m. a car owned by Paul F. Somerlot of near Richwood was found in the ditch on Route 739 west of Marion where County Road 101 dead-ends into it. Patrolmen had the car towed into Marion and are investigating to determine who was driving it.

Half an hour later a car driven by Glendon F. Rayburn, 27, of Radnor, went off the road at the same location. He sustained lacerations of the forehead and the left front and side of the automobile were badly damaged, patrolmen said.

Rayburn was given a citation to appear before Judge Hazen next Saturday on a charge of failing to stop within an assured clear distance.

Randall F. Huffman, 25, of near LaRue was given citations to answer charges of driving without an operator's license and not being able to stop within an assured clear distance, following an accident at 9:30 p.m.

He told patrolmen he failed to negotiate a curve on a county road approximately two miles south of LaRue. Minor damage resulted to the right front fender.

Scenes of Whisky Rebellion Depicted in Paintings

Howard Iams' Art Work On Display for Week At Harding High

A Marion resident's pictorial treatment of the 'Whisky Rebellion' of western Pennsylvania, 1791-1794, is on display in Marion for the first time.

J. Howard Iams' works on the famous conflict between the American government and settlers around the Pittsburgh area will be shown at Harding High School through next Thursday. Twenty-one block prints, 15 pastels and four oils are included in the exhibit in Harding's art room.

IAMS, A NATIVE of Washington, Pa., the area of the Whisky Rebellion, has exhibited his works in many leading U.S. art galleries. His paintings have won first prizes in the National Galleries in Washington, D. C.; in Birmingham, Ala., and Jackson, Miss. One of his paintings, "The LeMoyne House," at one time was hung in a conference room at the White House.

Iams hopes his exhibit will help clear up confusion over the cause of the rebellion. Whisky, to the Pennsylvania settler, was a medium of exchange in those days, Iams said.

"There was a road only halfway from the eastern colonies to western Pennsylvania," he said. "Wagons couldn't get through the rest of the trip so settlers resorted to horse trains."

LITTLE MONEY was available and whisky became the settler's medium of exchange. Whisky barrels were strapped to horses' backs and carried through from the eastern colonies.

Thus, when Washington's secretary of the treasury, Alexander Hamilton, decided to tax whisky, the settlers objected. Hamilton's tax, to raise money for the newly-formed colonies, took away all whisky profits and the settlers began to tar and feather tax collectors.

"WASHINGTON THOUGHT the trouble was being caused by the British, who had just lost the colonies," Iams said. "He sent 15,000 troops to the Pittsburgh area to find out what was going on."

"There was no heavy fighting, however, and the rebellion was settled peacefully," he said. "The settlers agreed to pay the tax in return for a road connecting the colonies. It is the present U.S. Route 40."

The collection includes scenes of homesteads and inns frequented by rebels, landscapes, and a painting of Washington crossing the Susquehanna River to organize the troops.

IAMS' WORKS, except the Washington painting, were done on the exact location. His depiction of Washington came from a description in the president's diary.

He has a family interest in the rebellion for his grandfather, Isaac Dunn, operated a pack train from western Pennsylvania to Virginia.

Iams has also had exhibits in the Corcoran Galleries in Washington, D. C., the Carnegie Institute of Art in Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Art Institute. He is a lifetime member of the Southern State Art League.

A resident of Marion for about five years, Iams works as an engineering draftsman for the Sinclair Pipe Line Co. He is instructor of art for the adult education program.

J. HOWARD IAMS, whose works are on display at Harding High School, holds a painting of George Washington crossing the Susquehanna River during the Whiskey Rebellion. The crossing, at the site of LeMoyne, Pa., was made on Washington's way to organize troops to put down the rebellion. Iams painted the picture after studying Washington's personal diary.

Rolls of Fake Coins Used To Defraud Bank

An unidentified man defrauded the National City Bank of $35 yesterday when he exchanged rolls of quarters, mostly filled with washers, for bills.

City police said today the man brought the coin rolls to the teller during the noon hour rush yesterday, explaining he wanted 25 one-dollar bills and the remainder in five-dollar bills. He told the teller he wanted the money for a dry cleaning establishment.

The teller discovered the washers when he opened a roll a half-hour later and found it had several quarters on each end, but the balance of the rolls were washers.

Altogether, there was but $25 in quarters, bank officials told officers, and the remainder was in washers.

Police said today a similar occurence happened at a grocery store in Columbus Monday. A man there tricked the store out of $20.

Farmers

grams and the effect of the survey itself upon farmers' actions.

Allotments Not Posted

It was pointed out that when the survey was made, many farmers had not yet been notified of their individual corn acreage allotments.

The survey did indicate, however that much land being diverted from such surplus crops as cotton and wheat will be used to grow other cash and livestock feed crops, soybeans, flaxseed, dry beans and peas, rather than grasses and legumes.

Big increases in acreages were indicated also for oats, barley, flaxseed, sorghums and sugar beets.

Only in the case of potatoes, the price of which is now down, was a significant decrease—about 11 percent—indicated.

The department said it appeared that 356,500,000 acres may be planted to 59 principal crops this year, or only 2,700,000 less than last year.

Should farmers plant at or near the acreages indicated by the survey, and should weather conditions be normal for the growing and harvesting season, production might well create surpluses of some crops not now in the excess category.

Passenger in Jet Plane Dies After Passing Out

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A 280-pound Army captain, who passed out in a jet trainer at 42,000 feet and put the plane in a roll when he slumped against the rear cockpit controls, died yesterday after the pilot made an emergency landing.

The Air Force said an autopsy showed a brain hemorrhage may have caused Capt. George R. Crum, 33, to pass out. Doctors did not rule on the cause of death pending further tests.

The pilot of the T33 trainer, Capt. Walter Davis, 29, of Clearwater, Fla., maneuvered the plane in the descent to keep his inert passenger away from the auxiliary controls.

McCarthy

"acting as spokesman and defense lawyer for the Democratic party, used the officially approved and published Communist method of attacking McCarthy and the Republican party."

He said "the main report" to the national conference of the American Communist party last September instructed party members to stir up fights between him and Eisenhower, directing their heaviest fire at McCarthy. The senator had quoted from the document in a Chicago speech Wednesday night.

The senator drew his most prolonged applause when he referred to the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

He called Taft a "tower of integrity and strength in the Republican party." "I greatly miss the moral support which I so long received from him," he said adding, "no chameleon was Bob Taft."

Wisconsin sent a majority of its delegates to the Republican convention in 1952 pledged to Taft and the state GOP organization backed him solidly.

Scattered cries of "guilty, guilty, guilty" came from the audience as McCarthy went through his charges against the Democrats.

Deeds Listed

The deeds which McCarthy named—20 which he said he had picked at random—ranged from U.S. recognition of Russia in 1933 to the wartime Yalta agreement, events which he linked to the fall of China to the Communists and the Truman administration's handling of the Korean War.

McCarthy repeated several charges he had made previously against the Democrats.

He said count number one "in the indictment for treason" against the Democrats had to do with the Korean War.

He said:

"Let us call as a witness that greatest of all Americans, Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He testified before the Russell Committee that when the Chinese Communists were pouring across the Yalu River bridges, he immediately ordered the bombing of those bridges to keep the Reds from pouring across the river to kill, cripple, capture and then torture to death the sons of American mothers as they did.

"MacArthur testified: 'But that order was countermanded from Washington.'

"How many Americans died because that order was countermanded, no one will ever know; that many died because of it, no one can question.

"As attorney for the defense, how plead you to this count, Adlai?"

Second Count

In his count No. 2, McCarthy said:

"In 1943 Adlai was given the task of formulating America's postwar policy for Italy. That policy according to the sworn testimony of Gen. Bedell Smith was to 'connive' to bring Communists into the Italian government and to bring the Communist leader, Togliatti, back from Moscow."

McCarthy made this same charge in a speech attacking Stevenson late in October, 1952, as the presidential campaign of that year was approaching its climax.

Another "indictment for treason" in which McCarthy named Stevenson was this:

"May 19, 1942, with Adlai as special assistant in the Navy Department, the White House ruled that members of the Communist conspiracy were to be allowed to act as radio operators on either commercial or naval vessels."

Storm

Mrs. Ora Crider, a Laurelville telephone operator, said she, her son and daughter-in-law, another daughter and a 3-month old baby were gathered around a television set about 9 p. m. when the storm struck.

"It felt like it was sucking the roof off the house. Like it raised the house and settled it down again," she said.

Over in Minute

"It didn't last more than a minute or so and it came all at once. We hardly knew it was happening."

Mrs. Crider said the storm blew the roof and front porch off a house two doors away. The occupants, Rev. John McRoberts and his wife, were at church at the time. The Evangelical United Brethren Church didn't escape damage, either, said Mrs. Crider. The wind smashed several of its windows.

Another house in the residential section was hit hard, she said. The wind tore off Jim Weaver's porch and levelled his garage.

But, she said, the storm was more severe at the edge of town.

Hocking County Sheriff A. J. Waldron said the wind drove a 3 by 5-inch timber through a house in Adelphi, narrowly missing the head of a sleeping boy. Mrs. Crider said some electric and telephone service was knocked out.

There were no reports of a funnel - shaped cloud, which is the trademark of a Tornado. The Weather Bureau in Columbus said its observer in Laurelville called it a tornado. The bureau said it was listing the storm as an "unconfirmed tornado."

Police were called at 3:40 p.m. yesterday to her residence where she was suffering from a cut below her left eye which required three stitches and a cut on her left arm which required one stitch. She said Spinks had struck her.

Administration Would Boost Farm Markets

Government Will Aid In Promotion, Benson Tells Florida Groups

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the Eisenhower administration wants private industry to promote markets for farm products with the government assisting as the servants and not the master.

"The building up of markets for agricultural products is a major objective of this administration in the area of farm policy," the secretary said in a speech prepared for a meeting of Florida agricultural groups.

Things being done in this direction, he said, include the sending of trade missions and commodity specialists to Europe, Asia and Latin America to explore immediate possibilities of expanding export trade.

Benson added:

"But we want private industry to promote, expand and build markets with your Department of Agriculture assisting as the servant and not the master. We are going to help private industry do business with the many countries where governments either transact business or completely control it. The administration is pledged to use its influence in getting other nations to remove import controls and exchange restrictions."

Benson said that farm price supports are necesary for agriculture, but that they do not answer all farm problems.

"The most important method of promoting the long-time welfare of farm people and the nation now has long been, and will continue to be adequate programs of research and education."

Mt. Gilead Downed in First Regional Tourney Start

Indians' Title Hopes Ended By 49-43 Westmont Defeat

By JOHN SHORT

Mount Gilead's hopes for a state Class B basketball crown were killed last night by a rangy Westmont quintet in Regional action at Troy. The Indians dropped a hard-fought decision 49-43.

Coach Les Grace, who was prominently mentioned as the Class B coach of the year, and his charges were making their first start since nailing down the Central District crown last Saturday at Capital University.

The Indians were unable to take advantage of a second-period lapse by the Westmont team and dropped behind for keeps. The squads had battled on even terms through the opening period and the winning Wildcats managed to take only a 15-14 edge at the quarter mark.

Held to 5 Points

The Indians netted only five points in the second stanza against a tight Westmont zone defense. The leaders popped in an additional eight points as the Morrow County squad missed its chance to jump into the lead.

The score was deadlocked six times in the first period and the Indians came storming back to knot the count at 17-all at the middle of the second before Westmont's Duane Richards put the Wildcats ahead 19-17 with a long set shot from the side of the floor. From that point on the winners were never headed although they were unable to stretch their lead to more than five points until the closing seconds of play. The half ended with Westmont out front by a 23-19 count.

The Mount Gilead team was never able to find its shooting eye and as a result hit for what probably was one of its lowest shooting averages of the season. The usually reliable foul shooters dropped in only five of 17 charity throws.

Lowell Brinley and Richards, playing under the boards for Westmont, took control of the rebounds in the third period and Mount Gilead fans saw the end coming. The winners built up a 33-28 lead by the end of the period after Grace shifted his team into a man to man defense. With five minutes remaining the eventual winners had spurted into a 40-32 edge and began playing cautious, control ball.

Indians Rally

John Bachelder hit on a bunny shot and Ted Moody hit on a southpaw hook shot to narrow the count to 40-36 before Dick Zolman put the Indians back in business with a layup. That score cut the Mount Gilead deficit to 41-38 with three minutes to go. With two and a half minutes still to go, Bachelder hit on a layup to put the score at 43-40 and Westmont began a freeze.

The Indians' desperation attempts to gain control of the ball resulted in several fouls being charged against them and Westmont's Jim Prether clinched the verdict when he dropped in a pair of charity shots with 1:34 remaining to hike the count to 46-50.

Brinley was the big gun in the Westmont offense. He finished the game with seven fielders and one free throw for 15 markers. Richards netted 12.

Zolman led the way for Grace's team with 15, also coming on seven field goals and a single foul shot. Moody dropped in 11 while Bachelder netted eight, John Staley five and Mosher four

The winners held a one - goal advantage from the field, putting 20 field goals while the Indians hit on 19. The Wildcats collected nine of 14 from the free throw line.

The win boosted the Westmont team's record for the season to 25 wins against a single setback. Mount Gilead finished with a 21-3 mark.

Favorite Romps

In the opening game last night, Lockland Wayne, favorite of most cage fans to cop the Class B title, rolled by New Vienna 65-53. Westmont and Lockland Wayne will clash tonight at 8 p. m. for a spot in the state tourney next week end at Cleveland.

Among the messages received by Grace, wishing his team the best of luck in the regional scrap was one from the St. Mary High School squad here. St. Mary and the Indians broke even in a pair of scraps during the regular season.

The Irish cagers wired, "We wish you the best of luck tonight and hope you bring home the bacon. We also will to you the luck of the Irish."

The Indians spent the night at a motel in Vandalia and were scheduled to make the trip home today.

MOUNT GILEAD 43

Moody 5-1-11; Mosher 2-0-4; Bachelder 3-2-8; Staley 2-1-5; Zolman 7-1-15.

WESTMONT 49

J. Richards 2-2-6; Garrison 4-1-9; D. Richards 5-2-12; Prether 2-3-7; Brinley 7-1-15.

Mohawks Lead 2-1

Key Struggle in Playoffs Slated at Coliseum Tonight

The key game of the International Hockey League playoffs between Marions Barons and the league champion Cincinnati Mohawks is tonight on the Coliseum ice as Marion returns for the fourth game of the series.

The Mohawks, who have won the last two contests hold a 2-1 edge in the best of seven series and a win would set up the possible clincher Sunday at Cincinnati.

Marion must win to remain in solid contention for the Turner Cup as a Mohawk win tonight would mean the Barons would have to win three remaining games.

The Barons opened the series Tuesday at Cincinnati with a 4-3 win but Cincinnati has come back to nip Marion 5-3 Wednesday and 4-2 Thursday.

Eight different skaters have scored for Cincinnati in the current series with the Barons Pacing the attack on the potent three lines of Cincinnati is Bill Goold, who has pumped three goals past Goalie Lou Crowdis and has been credited with an assist. Ken Biggs has scored twice while Ben Smith has a pair of goals and an assist. Connie Broden and Grigg each have a goal and an assist while other goals for the Mohawks have been scored by Butch Mackay, Eddie Kachur and Art Rose. Rollie McLenahan has three assists and Duke Edmundson two in the series. Five of the Cincinnati goals have been unassisted.

Tony Poeta has been the big gun for Marion, pumping three goals into the Cincinnati nets. He also has three assists. Horace Jones has a pair of goals and three assists while Gordy Vejprava has two goals, Wimpy Jones one goal and Kenny Schutz a goal and three assists.

In the battle of goaltenders thus far, Cincinnati's Charlie Hedge has turned back 76 Baron shots while Crowdis has been called on to stop 100 Cincinnati attempts.

Marion's undermanned Barons, with only 11 men to Cincinnati's full 15-man squad, will likely be troubled by Vejprava's injury suffered in the current series. It kept him out of the second series game and might tonight.

Cincinnati won five of the eight games during the regular IHL season from Marion — winning the first and last two — in outscoring the Barons 29-17.

N.Y. Castoff Cinches Job With Chisox

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sportswriter

A youngster who couldn't make the major league grade as a first baseman for the New York Giants today appeared to have made it as a regular starting pitcher for the Chicago White Sox.

He's Jack Harshman, a 6 foot 2 inch, 185 pound southpaw from San Diego, Calif. A Navy veteran, he now figures prominently in the plans of Manager Paul Richards—particularly after yesterday's performance against the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 26-year-old lefthander went seven innings against the Redbirds—the first of Richards' hurlers to go that far this spring—as the Chisox pounded out an 8-2 victory. Harshman gave up both runs, but he allowed only six hits, walked one and fanned four.

It was a real smooth job and everyone, except the Cardinals who committed five errors, was pleased over Harshman's showing.

"All the time the Giants owned me, it was touch and go whether I'd be with them as a first baseman or back in the minors," Harshman declared. "Now it looks as though I got a real chance to stick here."

Although he's a comparative new hand at pitching, Jack has made up for lost time. He won 42 games last season—23 with Nashville during the regular season, four in the Southern Association playoffs and 15 with San Juan in the Puerto Rican Winter League.

Harshman actually opened the 1950 campaign as the Giants' regular first sacker, but was sent to Minneapolis after he failed to hit as well as expected. He was sold to the White Sox last winter in a reported $100,000 deal.

Harshman's old mates, the Giants, didn't fare too well yesterday. They dropped a 2-1 decision to the Cleveland Indians, who snapped a five game losing streak. Al Rosen, the American League's most valuable player in 1953, and outfielder Dale Mitchell drove in the Tribe's runs.

In a night game, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored their 10th straight victory and their second over the Yankees 2-1 as Don Newcombe and Joe Black limited the world champions to one hit. The lone safety was a home run by Bob Cerv in the eighth inning. The Brooks won it in the ninth on Pee Wee Reese's single with two out.

The Yankees got some good news earlier in the day when pitcher Johnny Sain rejoined the club. He previously had said he would devote all his time to his automobile agency in Walnut Ridge, Ark. Johnny signed for a reported $30,000.

In other games, Ernie Banks and Dee Fondy each hit two home runs as the Chicago Cubs trounced the Baltimore Orioles 13-8. Rookie Bob Talbot also connected for the Cubs, who won only their second game in 11 exhibition starts.

A pair of unearned runs off reliever Murry Dickson enabled the Boston Red Sox to chalk up a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in a game halted after six innings by rain. Karl Olson homered for the Bosox.

The Philadelphia Athletics hit four home runs off rookie Ben Johnson to defeat Milwaukee 10-6. The Athletics started with a four run splurge in the opening frame when Vic Power and Gus Zernial slammed consecutive homers, Don Bollweg doubled and Bill Renna hit another out of the park.

After nine straight losses, the Washington Senators won their first exhibition game downing Cincinnati 6-5. Chuck Stobbs and rookie Dean Stone, a pair of southpaws, limited the Redlegs to seven hits and shortstop Pete Runnels led the nats' attack with four straight singles.

Relay Teams Shine

Four Champions Protect Cleveland Track Crowns

CLEVELAND (AP) — A familiar four—Harrison Dillard, Len Truex, Mal Whitfield and Horace Ashenfelter—today had earned another year's lease on Cleveland Knights of Columbus track titles.

The other defending champions, pole vaulter Bob Richards and high jumper Ken Wiesner, lost out in the 14th annual competition at the Arena last night.

The biggest thrills for 7,185 fans were provided by college and university relay teams which put the only new meet records on the books.

Michigan's 2-mile relay team ran the fastest time of the current indoor season: 7 minutes, 39.3 seconds. Indiana set a meet record of 3 minutes, 19.9 seconds in the university division of the mile relay; and Loyola's time of 3 minutes, 25.7 seconds was a meet record in the college division of the mile relay.

Truex, a former Ohio State miler from Luna, Ohio, was pushed hard all the way by FBI veteran Fred Wilt and Lawton Lamb, former Illinois athlete, but his time of 4 minutes, 16.2 seconds was more than 7 seconds off the meet mark.

It was the fourth time in five years Truex has won the mile here. Wilt, who copped it in 1952, had the lead for only a few strides, and Lamb pulled abreast of Truex on the next and last lap but then fell behind Wilt to third.

Cleveland's Harrison Dillard posted a fine 5.5 second time in winning the 45-yard high hurdles for the ninth straight year. Illinois' Big Ten champ, Willard Thomson ran second, ahead of Van Bruner, formerly of Michigan.

Whitfield took the lead on the second lap of the 600, and the ex-Ohio Stater had no trouble leading Leroy Ebert of Iowa to the finish. Whitfield's time was 1 minute, 12.4 seconds.

With similar ease, Ashenfelter came home far in front of Curt Stone in the 2-mile in 9 minutes, 8.7 seconds.

Ron Mitchell of Illinois, making the best jump of his career, cleared 6 feet, 8¾ inches, and 6 other jumpers, including Wiesner, tied for second at 2¼ inches lower.

A 22-year-old Ohio State veterinary medicine student, Jerry Welbourn, upset Richards and Don Laz for the second time this season. Although all 3 cleared 14 feet, 8¼ inches and went out at 15 feet, Welbourn rated first because he had the fewest misses.

Willie Williams, the Big Ten speedster who won the 45-yard dash here in 1952, had trouble with the starting blocks and was upset by Abe Butler, a Baldwin-Wallace freshman, who was clocked at 4.9 seconds.

In the 1,000-yard run, Gene Maynard, Illinois' Big Ten champ, came home 15 yards ahead of Ohio State's Bob Weadick to win in 2 minutes, 13.8 seconds.

Giardello Belts Troy; To Seek Welter Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Cocky and competent Joey Giardello, knockout victor over Willie Troy, today touted "Giardello for a title and the Brooklyn bums for the world series."

The Brooklyn-born Philadelphia middleweight contender advanced another step towards a title shot by stopping Willie in 39 seconds of the seventh round of a one-sided but thrilling scrap at Madison Square Garden last night.

The 23-year-old Giardello boxed the 21-year-old Willie silly, stunned him with flashing lefts and rights, and dropped him three times with rights to the jaw, twice in the first round and once in the third. When he bombed the six-foot Washington negro with eight straight punches in the seventh, referee Al Berl halted the fight.

"I told you I'd do it, didn't I?," said Giardello. Now I'd like the winner of that Olson - Gavilan fight."

Middleweight champion Bobo Olson defends his crown against welterweight king Kid Gavilan in Chicago April 2. If the kid wins, then Bobo will get a return bout.

7 To Qualify

Tourney Action Tonight Will Select State Finalists

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The talent toll was terrific last night as three unbeaten teams and one former state champion were blasted out of the state high school basketball title chase in regional tournament semi-finals.

The last of the clean slate teams in Class A were outsted as Niles, with a 23-0 record, fell before Canton South, and Tecumseh's 22-game winning spree was halted 61-51 by Portsmouth's Cinderella squad.

Vienna, Class B pace-setter with 29 straight, hit the end of the trail by bowing 57-56 to Copley, which stayed in the scrap as the state's only unsullied quintet with a 24-0 mark.

That series of upsets set the stage for tonight's play in which seven qualifiers will be named for next weekend's state tournament in the Cleveland Arena.

New Lexington St. Aloysius, coached by Bob Fowle, was first to reach the state finals. The Class B powerhouse made it with a 22-4 record by beating Waverly 83-70 last night in the Athens regional. Big Mike Allen, 6-8½ center for St. Aloysius, poured 33 points through the basket, giving him 207 and an average of 34.5 for 6 tournament contests.

Hamilton's Big Blue, rated second in Class A in the final Associated Press top 10 poll, ousted Dayton Roosevelt 71-53 at Cincinnati. It was Roosevelt's second loss in 22 games, both at the hands of Hamilton, and gave the Butler Countians a 22-3 record. Alex (Boo) Ellis, 6-5 center, scored 25 for the victors. Roosevelt is a former state Class A champion, and Hamilton has won the title twice.

Tecumseh, which reached the regionals in both its seasons in Class A, took a 16-12 first quarter lead over George Heller's astounding Portsmouth team, but couldn't hold it. Portsmouth won only 9 of 18 in the regular season, but has knocked out 2 once-beaten teams and 1 undefeated one, in 5 tournament games. Leroy Carr scored 21 points for Portsmouth, but 6 foot 5 Wayne Embry got 25 for the losers.

A crowd of 13,617, reported the largest ever to see a basketball game in Ohio, watched the Hamilton-Roosevelt and Portsmouth - Tecumseh games in Cincinnati Gardens.

Toledo Macomber and Columbus South reached the finals at Toledo. Macomber with a 51-41 win over Lima Central, and Columbus by 70-55 over Defiance.

Herman (Bup) Rearick's Canton McKinley squad defeated Bridgeport 74-62 at Canton to reach the finals against Canton South which wrecked Niles' hopes. McKinley has reached the state tournament more times than any other school, but has never won the title. The Bulldogs have been beaten four times in the championship game.

The Kent regional finalists are Cuyahoga Falls, 56-51 winner over Akron Central, and Ken' Roosevelt which eliminated Cleveland Cathedral Latin 61-49. That loss left Cleveland without a representative in the state meet to which it plays host March 26-27.

In Class B, Delphos St. John, former state champ, meets Ottoville this afternoon at Toledo for a state berth.

The other Class B games send unbeaten Copley against the famed Columbiana Clippers, former state champs, at Youngstown tonight, and former champion Lockland Wayne against Westmont of Hollansburg (Darke County) at Troy.

Columbiana ousted favored Tuscarawas 65-63, Lockland Wayne handed New Vienna its second loss in 23 games by the same score, and Westmont eliminated Mount Gilead 49-43.

If Portsmouth wins the Cincinnati regional, the terrific Trojans will be the most surprising team in tournament history. Hamilton Public, tonight's foe of the river city stalwarts, defeated them 63-42 and 94-46 during the regular season.

La Salle Faces Bradley Squad For NCAA Title

KANSAS CITY (AP)—La Salle University's Explorers, featuring All America Tom Gola, and Bradley University's big, battling Braves, will meet for the National Collegiate Basketball championship tonight.

La Salle, making its first appearance in the NCAA-sponsored tournament, burned little energy in beating badly outclassed Penn State 69-54 in the semifinals last night.

The rugged, hustling Bradley team came from behind in the last minute to beat the Southern California Trojans 74-72 and gain their second spot in the NCAA finals. City College of New York whipped the Braves 71-68 in the 1950 finals.

Penn State and Southern Cal will play for consolation honors at 8:45 (EST). Bradley and La Salle begin their nationally televised (NBC) game at 11:10.

Trailing 29-40 late in the second quarter, Bradley's power paid off in the closing minutes as swift Bob Carney scored on a lay-in to put the Braves ahead 71-70 to stay.

Southern Cal, with Roy Irvin winning individual scoring honors with 23 points, was ahead 42-36 at the half and 58-51 after three periods, but couldn't stand off the rallying Braves.

Big Dick Estergard threw in 21 points for Coach Fordy Anderson's Bradley team, which was barred from NCAA competition last year because of rules violations.

La Salle's performance last night left the experts in a state of confusion. Fans—there were about 10,000 of them—poured out in droves during the second half as it became evident Penn State couldn't make a contest of it.

Penn State—the team that upset Louisiana State and Notre Dame in the Iowa City regionals—did nothing right. The Lions hit only 25 per cent of their field shots, made numerous wild passes and defended poorly.

Gola, who got his first field goal just before the end of the first half, showed an All America "touch", but never had to turn on the steam. He wound up with 19 points, 9 of them on free throws. Explorer Frank Blatcher also got 19.

Kennedy Bids For Cleveland Outfield Berth

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Bob Kennedy is waging an impressive battle to stay in the six-man outfield unit which the Cleveland Indians plan to carry through the regular season.

Kennedy, along with Harry Simpson, face stern competition from a group of aspirants—Dave Pope, Gale Wade, Jim Lemon and Al Smith—all younger than Kennedy and all but Pope younger than Simpson.

While neither Kennedy or Simpson has definitely secured a berth, the former appears to be more than holding his own against the youngsters. He has batted only 9 times in the exhibition games, and has made 3 hits for a .333 average. What's more, 2 of the hits were homers.

Yesterday the Tribe edged the New York Giants, 2-1 to break a five-game losing streak. Dale Mitchell drove in the first Cleveland run with a single that broke a scoreless tie in the fourth.

A single by Al Rosen sent over the other Cleveland run in the fifth.

Moody, Shell Placed High in All-Ohio Voting

Mount Gilead's Ted Moody was named to a third string berth on the All-Ohio Class B basketball team selected by United Press.

Placed at a forward position, he was joined on the third team by Sycamore's Vaughn Shell, only other area cager to make the all state team. Shell was center on the powerful Sycamore squad which went through the season undefeated before losing out in the district finals.

Moody was the sparkplug of the Mount Gilead squad which won the district title at Capital to enter the regional tourney at Troy.

An honorable mention went to Lexington's Dale Ford. The big center played against Marion St. Mary this year in the holiday carnival here which his team won with a one-point victory over the Irish.

Two Crawford County stars, Ron Kaib of Sulphur Springs and Joe Smith of Leesville, also received honorable mentions on the all state team.

Ralph Elwer of Delphos St. John, another team St. Mary faced this season, was placed on the second team at center while a teammate, Ewell, gained honorable mention.

Harry Fitzpatrick of Lancaster St. Mary, a name familiar to St. Mary fans, was placed on the all state first team at a guard slot while a teammate, Ted Abbott, was listed in honorable mention balloting.

Fitzpatrick, a 6-3 senior who scored 328 points during the year, was joined on the first team by Adrian Hayes of Oak Hill, 6-3 senior who had 630 points for the season; Virgil Thompson of Lockland Wayne, 5-11 senior with 328 points; Dick Bogenrife of Midway, 6-3 senior with 847 points; and Norman Martin of Bethel, 6-3 senior with 783 points.

City League keglers were led by Bennett's 245 and a 585 by Phil Hoffman. Harruff's Tires fired 931-2616 for team laurels.

Hank Kraus hit 221 while E. Cottrill totaled 592 for honors in the Independent League where 14 games of 200 or more were posted. Krausz had a 581 series and Cottrill a 214 game. S. Kuhner hit 212 and G. Harper totaled 579. G. Mull 577 for other high scores there. Tanner Decorating with 948 and Fairview Gardens with 2724 had high team scores.

Marion McCombs' 214 and a 568 by Lee Kirby led the way in the Marion Recreation League. Marion Training School rolled 911-2610 for team honors.

Redlegs' Veterans Beaten by Senators

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Senators should have investigated the Reds before.

Washington lost nine straight in the Grapefruit League before subduing Cincinnati 6-5 yesterday. The Senators clipped veterans Harry Perkowski and Hermie Wehmeier for 11 hits.

Manager Bucky Harris wasn't overly disturbed over his string of setbacks.

"Victories don't count down here," he said. "My chief interest is bringing the club home in good condition."

The Reds travel today to Bradenton, Fla., for a game with the Milwaukee Braves.

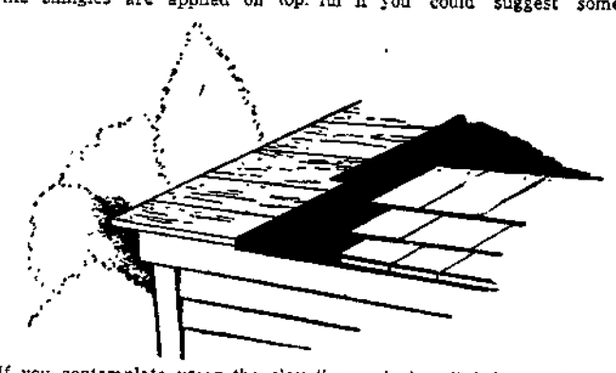
First Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: I have a problem of reshingling an old house. At present I have a tin roof and I am contemplating putting on lock-type tile shingles. Would you recommend taking off the tin first or put shingles over the metal.

A: It would be better to remove the metal, since it is evidently in poor condition. A roofing felt is put down over the sheathing boards and then the tile shingles are applied on top.



If you contemplate using the clay type of shingles, first make certain that your rafters are large enough to carry the additional weight of such a roof.

Q: Can you help me with this problem? Whenever there is a strong wind from the west, it blows smoke down the chimney and back into the basement, even through the closed check door on a new furnace. It also comes through the smoke-pipe connections.

A: First of all, check the height of your chimney. It should be at least two feet above the peak of your roof. If not, you should have a mason add this needed height. Next the opening at the top of the chimney may be too small to handle the volume of smoke of your furnace. Check this with the maker of your furnace or the local representative. Backdrafts will also occur if there is another stove, ventilating fan, heater or fireplace connected to the same chimney. It might also be that the end of the smoke-pipe does not extend far enough into the chimney.

Q: My apartment becomes dirty and dusty because of the steam heat, and I would be very grateful if you could suggest something which will help me keep it cleaner.

A: The main trouble may be that the radiators themselves need a thorough cleaning, both with a vacuum cleaner and one of those thin radiator brushes which can reach between the radiator sections. Radiators themselves are great dust catchers, and when hot air rises, it carries dust upward, where it settles on walls and ceiling. Radiator covers will help, of course, but you will still have to keep the radiators clean. For wall registers, you should have clean dust filters, made of fireproofed cheesecloth or similar material. These filters should be changed from two to four times a year.

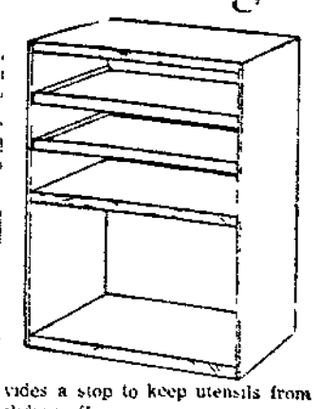
Shelf Provides Storage



Extra shelves often give you more use out of a kitchen base cabinet. They provide handy storage for shallow utensils—skillets, platters, lids and cookie trays.

Such shelves are easily cut to size from a panel of ¼-inch tempered hardboard, such as Masonite. They are readily supported by metal "braces," available at any hardware store, or by small dimension quarter-rounds of wood.

Finish the front edges of such shelves by cutting a saw kerf in a ¾-inch wood dowel and glue this on the hardboard with plywood glue. Such edging makes it easy to pull the shelf out and provides a stop to keep utensils from sliding off.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are some items of building construction which appear to be very big jobs, but which are actually so simple that almost any owner of a house could do them himself Naturally, the big things cost big money, so the savings are great when the owner can accomplish the job.

A good example of this is illustrated here In the case shown, there existed a very large room which the family wanted converted into two smaller rooms They wanted a real solid wall, built according to standard practice and having a standard • sized door The estimate came to a couple of hundred dollars, but the work was done by the owner for less than half of that

As interior partitions are built or framed out of standard 2 x 4 lumber, there was no complication about ordering the right material The first step was to establish the location for the partition, cut out the baseboard and lay a sole (a 2 x 4 flat on the floor) where the wall would go Second step was to cut studds (uprights) so that there was one every sixteen inches, as shown and cap them off with the plate (a 2 x 4 nailed up against the ceiling) There were no complications about this as the only necessity was accurate measurements between floor and ceiling

The doorway as framed as shown The next move was to sheathe both sides of the wall with sheetrock and then install the casing for the door and hang the door within it This took a bit of figuring, but by simply seeing how the other doors in the house were hung, the owner did very nicely

If this job were handled neatly and carefully there need not be one bit of damage to the wallpaper and if the same pattern were used on the new wall you would end up with two completely decorated rooms

Ohio Water Conservation Project To Start Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Workmen will start on the Upper Hocking Watershed project near Lancaster Ohio in a few months Reg Jenkins (R-Ohio) said today

In a statement he said he had been so advised by Chairman Hope (R Kan) of the House Agriculture Committee

Jenkins said he had also been told by the Soil Conservation Service that contracts for the first water detention dams probably will be let by June 30

Preliminary plans for the soil conservation and flood preventions program are expected to be completed by July 1, he said

These plans he said, will contain reasonably accurate cost estimates and tentative locations for all major structures

The Ohio Turnpike will include service areas where travelers can stop for food and fuel

Hula Dancing Protects Figures of Housewives

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Matrons of suburban Shorewood are keeping their figures trim by hula dancing under the instruction of a woman who never has been to Hawaii

The women dressed in home-made grass skirt outfits attend hula classes at the Shorewood Opportunity School every Monday and wiggle to recorded Hawaiian music

Instructor Val Weimer never has visited the Islands but she knows about 25 ancient and modern hulas She learned them from a San Antonio Tex woman

Miss Weimer said the swaying, tropical dance is an excellent way for women of all ages to keep slim and trim enough to wear the proper dress of bolonus and grass skirts

Most of her pupils make their own costumes using colored cellophane for the grass of the skirts. But some of the women have imported bolonus and skirts from Hawaii Their leis are made of artificial flowers

Would Expedite Ore Handling

Steel Major Ohio Stake In St. Lawrence Seaway

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio —Hunger of Ohio steel mills for iron ore is sharpening Buckeye interest in the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Political leaders in this non-presidential election year are predicting approval of the seaway by Congress and urging action for Ohio to share in expected benefits

The seaway would open the Great Lakes to ocean shipping and provide a cheap route to haul ore from new mines in Labrador to Ohio's Lake Erie ports

Terming the seaway inevitable Gov. Frank J. Lausche recalled that dwindling reserves of high-grade ore in Minnesota's Mesabi Range threaten stability of the Midwests steel industry.

BIG FREIGHTERS haul ore from the range to lake ports for rail shipment to steel mills Lausche said it cost three cents a ton more last year to haul ore 71 miles from Cleveland to Youngstown by rail than from Duluth, Minn , to Cleveland, a distance of 835 miles He said the huge ore reserves in Canada are only 76 miles farther from Ohio by water than the Mesabi

Lausche, a Democrat seeking an unprecedented fifth term, recalled he plugged for a U S. - Canadian seaway project in his first term as governor. He has called a conference of city and county officials of the lake area for next Friday to study expected seaway benefits to Ohio

His Republican opponent this year, State Auditor James A Rhodes, also backs the seaway Rhodes called on the Ohio Legislative Service Commission for a study to safeguard Ohio's interests.

ALSO URGING a study by the commission, a legislative fact-finding body, was state Rept Robert W Reider, PortClinton publisher, Reider is the Democratic candidate for secretary of state

Noting that some 200 miles of Lake Erie shoreline between Toledo and Conneaut would be affected if the seaway wins congressional approval, Reider said

I am confident there is sufficient public interest among municipal officials and civic leaders in northern Ohio to come up with practical recommendations in time for action during the next legislative session '

Rhodes described the Federation for Railway Progress whose leaders include Clevelanders, as 'the most powerful organized lobby fighting the St Lawrence Seaway in Washington .

"After legislation providing for the seaway is passed by Congress," Rhodes' prepared statement said, We must be vigilant and militant to the end that the Railway Progress lobby does not transfer its activities to Ohio in order to obstruct the project . .

"We must work closely with all governmental agencies in the development of a master plan that will benefit all the people of our state "

RHODES has dubbed the federation the "Lausche lobby because he said Lausche served as its counsel during 1947-48 between his first and second terms as governor Lausche ignored the reference but politicians regarded his conference call as an oblique reply

The governor told a press conference he appeared personally before a congressional committee in 1946 to support a seaway proposal He wrote a letter last year to the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee urging seaway approval The letter said in part

" . The St Lawrence Seaway is not only needed, it is my considered opinion that it is essential to the national welfare and national security of our country

' Qualified leaders in our government have stated that it is altogether probable that this country will have to maintain a state of preparedness for the next 10 to 15 years perhaps for the next generation The base of any prepared ness and defense program in the modern world is steel.

"THAT COUNTRY which can produce steel cheaply and in abundance is the country best prepared to defend itself and maintain its place in the community of nations Anything therefore that would impair or curtail, our ability to produce steel in this country virtuly affects the security of our nation

"It is my firm belief that this great country of ours cannot afford to let a foreign country, no matter how close or friendly, to completely own and have absolute control over a strategic waterway that leads straight to the agricultural and industrial heart of our nation

Hottest Since Truman-MacArthur

McCarthy-Army Scrap Out of Control

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—No congressional investigation since the firing of Gen MacArthur will have had as much public attention as the hearing of Sen McCarthy's fight with the Army

Former President Truman stripped the Pacific war hero of his Far East Command because he thought MacArthur was getting too big for his britches President Eisenhower has taken a stand against the Wisconsin Republican senator for somewhat the same reason

MacArthur with many admirers was a possible candidate for president when Truman brought him home McCarthy, with many admirers has been mentioned as a possible candidate someday, although he says no

There the similarity is likely to end

McCARTHY'S DISPUTE with the Army revolves around a simple central question of honesty who's telling the truth? A difference of opinion on handling the Korean War was the main point in the Truman-MacArthur quarrel

There were deep feelings on both sides in MacArthur's case, just as there are in McCarthy's and a congressional committee could have made a political shambles of an investigation into the treatment of the general

But the Senate's Armed Services Committee, under the chairmanship of Sen. Russell (D-Ga), took charge and conducted the hearings with a dignity still talked about

All the witnesses had a chance to speak their piece fully and fairly The senators sitting across the table except for a few intense moments remained calm

There had been suggestions that the same committee now under the chairmanship of Sen Saltonstall (R Mass), handle the McCarthy-Army case It didn't and Saltonstall showed no desire to get into it

McCARTHY INSISTED that his own investigations subcommittee take over He got what he wanted stepping down as chairman for this one investigation only Sen Mundt (R SD) will act as chairman.

Since this is McCarthy's committee the seven-man group—four Republicans and three Democrats—knows beforehand it will be watched for fairness

If there were no other reason besides this self consciousness starting out Mundt and his fellow committeemen could be expected to lean over backwards to give their investigation the dignified treatment

But there will be a profound difference between this hearing and the one given MacArthur He was asked questions by the senators and answered them. He couldn't cross-examine witnesses who disagreed with him

McCarthy will testify under oath The other senators can ask him their questions in the usual way And McCarthy says he will let the Army people cross-examine him

But because he is a member of the subcommittee he will also be able to cross examine any Army witnesses appearing against him He can be a rough, tough questioner

He may get a good going-over himself from the Army people who showed plenty of toughness in forcing him into a showdown on the case of Pvt G David Schine

Schine had been an unpaid worker on McCarthy's staff until he was drafted The Army accuses McCarthy and his committee counsel Roy Cohn of trying to get a commission for Schine before he was drafted and of trying to pressure the Army into giving him special treatment afterwards

McCarthy and Cohn deny this McCarthy countercharged that the Army—meaning Secretary Robert T Stevens and Asst Army Counsel John G Adams—tried to blackmail him into giving up his search for Army Communists

McCarthy says the real issue is not Schine but Communists in the Army If he tries to make this the issue in the hearings it may not turn out to be as orderly as the one given MacArthur.

Various Systems Offered

Selection of Home Heat Plant Becomes Complex

How to select a heating plant for a home is a problem that is becoming increasingly complex in the midst of all the claims and counterclaims made for various types of heat .

For several years it seemed that we all had to have radiant heat or we'd be old-fashioned. Then all of a sudden the air conditioning team installed its own cheer leaders.

Builders forgot all the nice things they had said about radiant heat and seemed to imply that if you couldn't afford year-round air conditioning, your best bet would be at least to install circulating warm air—in order to have ducts ready for the coming revolution.

WELL, IT ISNT HARD to find good points in any successful heating system. And apparently the public knows this. Radiant baseboards, for instance, put on the most spectacular popularity show since World War II in any general classification of heating systems.

A survey of total heating installations in 17 states and the District of Columbia shows that baseboard radiation, among all "wet heat" installations, jumped from 11 per cent in 1947 to 40 per cent five years later. In the same period radiant panel installations rose only from 12 to 14 per cent. Cast iron radiators fell off from 63 to 17 per cent, and convectors also slipped from 41 to 29 per cent.

These figures are from a survey published by the Official Bulletin of the .Heating, Piping and Air Conditioning Contractors National Association. The survey had been made on request of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Warm air, of course, overshadowed all of the "wet heats."

"WARM AIR is predominantly used in smaller home construction to save builders' costs," an engineer observes, "Modern hospitals and luxury apartment houses use hot water because it gives constant and quiet heat. Industrial buildings may use steam because it can be forced quickly through pipes over long distances."

Because so many prospective home builders ask about the three systems, we were discussing them with Charles J. Kern, chief application engineer for a heating equipment manufacturer.

"Many home buyers might be persuaded to take air heating to get air cooling," Kern said. "But they forget that they are buying air heating for several cold months of the year and air cooling for perhaps only one hot month. Thus they may trade winter comfort for summer comfort in far unequal proportions."

Kern contends that heating and cooling are two separate problems, each having their best separate solutions.

AGREEING with this, Edward McIntosh, air conditioning specialist for the Philco Corp., argues that individual room cooling is still the most economical for the average house.

"Cold loss in distribution is much greater than heat loss," he says. "Ducts carrying cold air should be insulated. But such expensive finishing is rarely provided in warm air systems."

McIntosh cites other costs. "At time of construction, a six-room house designed for warm air heating," he says, "can be equipped for air cooling with a 3-ton machine and controls for perhaps $2,000. Cost of operation during a normal summer month in northeastern states might run close to $80. Such a machine uses 1½ gallons of water per ton every minute, which might give pause for thought in areas of drought.

"For an older house installation and operation could be expected to run higher. Single room units, using no water, and operating for a few cents an hour seem to be the most attractive."

So Kern and McIntosh give you the other side of the air conditioning picture, in case you have been wondering about radiant baseboard heat.

Ohio Construction Award Record Set

CLEVELAND — All of Ohio except the southwest corner for January and February had a record volume of construction contract awards of $161,971,000 according to the F. W. Dodge Corp. This was an increase of 56 per cent over the same period 1953.

The Dodge report, noting the two-month record set by the large portion of Ohio centering at Cleveland, said "Our region once again has contributed mightily in establishing a new two-month dollar volume high here and has made this increase felt in the entire 37 eastern states.

Individual two-month totals compared with the same period 1953 were: nonresidential, $91,613,000, up 95 per cent; residential, $49,035,000, up 39 per cent; heavy engineering, $21,323,000, down 1 per cent.

February construction awards reached $63,981,000 or 35 per cent less than January but 21 per cent more than February 1953. Individual February totals were: nonresidential, $33,044,000, down 44 per cent from January but up 19 per cent over February 1953; residential, $25,447,000, up 8 per cent over January and up 41 per cent over February 1953. Heavy engineering at $5,490,000 was down 65 per cent from January and down 23 per cent from February 1953.

Divers Find Jet Engine

LONDON (AP) — Divers have recovered the fourth engine of the British Comet which crashed in the sea off Elba in January, the admiralty announced today.

Technicians of the British Overseas Airways Corp. are examining the engines in an attempt to find out the cause of the accident, in which 35 persons perished.

Every pound of codfish caught by fishermen represents about 100,000 pounds of plants that grew in the ocean, says an article in Agricultural and Food Chemistry.

Unemployment Still Rising but At Slower Rate

Labor Department Reports Most Major Industries Affected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment has continued to mount, the Labor Department says, and by mid-March was being felt in almost all the nation's major industrial areas.

In a report issued yesterday, the department's Bureau of Employment Security (BES) said it found that joblessness had spread by mid-March from the auto, farm machinery, aircraft and household appliance manufacturing fields to a "wide range of industries" such as basic steel, textiles, shipbuilding, electronics and electrical equipment.

Rate Slowing Down

BES said, however, there were signs the increase in joblessness had slowed down and reported a slight drop early in March in insured unemployment.

March was designed by President Eisenhower as an unemployment thermometer. He told a news conference Feb. 17 that an upswing in employment generally is noted in March. If this trend should fail to develop this year, the President added, the government might have to take measures, perhaps including tax reduction.

Last Monday night the President went to the nation with a radio and television appeal against a Democratic income tax cut drive. In that speech he said economic conditions "do not call for an emergency program that would justify larger federal deficits and further inflation through large additional tax reductions at this time."

Eisenhower said "some unemployment" has cropped up in various parts of the nation, but he contended that the country as a whole "continues to be prosperous." The President said joblessness is no higher than it was in the spring of 1950, the eve of the Korean War outbreak.

Totals 3,671,000

The Census Bureau's most recent unemployment count was 3,671,000 for February.

But there were some optimistic signs even as BES reported that virtually all the 149 major job areas surveyed reflected "adversely-affected employment conditions" between mid-January and mid-March.

For one thing, BES said in a separate report that there had been a slight drop—12,500—in joblessness among workers covered by unemployment compensation. This brought the total as of March 6 to 2,200,600.

Unemployment compensation

Furthermore, BES reported that during the following week new claims for jobless pay totaled 310,600—8,200 fewer than were filed during the week ended March 6.

figures give only part of the job picture, since not many more than half the nation's workers are covered by this program.

BES, in its discussion of the situation in mid-March, also said the employment drop-off had slowed in the industries that bore the brunt of the winter unemployment.

BES said employment in the trade and construction fields dropped a bit in almost all the areas it studied, but the bureau emphasized this was normal in winter.

The bureau groups industrial areas according to employment conditions. In its latest report, BES shifted 40 of the 149 major labor market areas into classifications showing greater "surpluses" of workers.

Hartford, Conn.— The only area in the country to report a labor shortage in January—was listed as having a "balanced" labor supply in March. There were but 20 of these areas showing neither a labor surplus nor shortage.

Nine new areas were added to a group where at least 6 per cent of the work force is jobless. This brought to 34 the number of major areas with a "substantial" labor surplus. Such areas are eligible for special consideration in the award of government contracts. The newcomers:

Charleston, W.Va.; Wheeling-Steubenville, W.Va.-Ohio; Portland, Ore.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Duluth-Superior, Minn.-Wis.; Huntington-Ashland, W.Va.-Ky.; Paterson, N.J., Racine, Wis.; and San Antonio, Tex.

The remaining 30 of the 40 labor market areas shifted into new categories joined the "moderate" surplus group. Previously they had been recorded as having "balanced" labor supplies. Nearly two-thirds of the nation's biggest labor market areas are in the "moderate" surplus class.

THEBOM TO SING 'CARMEN'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blanche Thebom will sing the title role in Bizet's "Carmen" for the first time with the Metropolitan Opera Co. when it presents its 29th performance in Public Hall here April 19-24. The mezzo soprano from Canton, previously had sung the role with the San Francisco Opera Co. and the Cincinnati Summer Opera Festival.

Chemicals Helping Boost Production for Farmers

WILMINGTON, Del (UP) — A heartening report on the results of teamwork between science and agriculture was revealed through a 50 per cent step-up in farm production in the United States in the past decade.

The increased agricultural output was made during a period when the nation's population jumped 25 per cent.

In sharp contrast to this country's farm production gains, world production inched up a scant five per cent, while the world's population was increasing by 18 per cent during th 20-year period.

The E. I. duPont Co. cited the figures to demonstrate how the farmer in this country is reaping the benefits of more leisure time for less demanding physical labor through the use of agricultural chemicals

The firm pointed out that while only about 12 per cent of America's population were engaged in farming, the nation was producing more through teamwork between technolgists and farmers

According to duPont, the problem of feeding the world's increasing millions is heightened by the fact that man is gradually pushing toward the limit of cultivatable land.

As the firm sees it, the world must work toward stepping up production per acre in the land already under the plow through science, if we are to minimize the effects of population increases.

The National Safety Council says the hours from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. are the deadliest on the highway. The Council says 38 per cent of all traffic accidents occur during those hours.

Outdoor Building Jobs Improve Yards

Rainy spring days can be spent indoors preparing for outdoor living. There are so many things to do, and this is a perfect opportunity.

Outdoor porch and terrace furniture may be scrubbed and painted, new cushions made for chairs and sofas, tools sanded and sharpened.

Your home may be brightened up in a number of ways, suggests Clarie Maxwell Young, home counselor for a large New York savings and loan institution. Mrs. Young finds this is an excellent time of the year for home craftsmen to display their talents. She offers a few projects for your consideration:

STRICTLY FOR THE BIRDS. Little wrens will be looking for nests any day and a wooden cream cheese box is the perfect answer. Bore holes along the box, about one inch in diameter. Nail the box to the branch of a tree, keeping the cover intact.

Outdoor end table—An old nail keg has many uses. One good one is an outdor end table which you can make with the addition of a plywood top. A ¾-inch thick plywood board cut round in two-foot diameter is the surface. Sometimes a lumber yard will have a square or oblong shaped piece that is cheaper and may serve the same purpose.

Nail three pieces of wood on the underside of the board to fit the head of the keg. This will help keep the table securely in place. Coat the table with shellac, a base coat of flat paint and a coat of enamel.

TRICKS FOR SPRING: a garden for your mail box, a bird house made out of a cheese box, a growing keg.

Your table may be enhanced further by boring holes at regular intervals in the keg with a ¾-inch bit, filling the keg with earth and plant sempervivum or vines. The top should be removable so the plants may be watered.

PRETTY THE MAIL BOX. Instead of corny drawings why not place your mailbox in its own little garden? Just get a shallow box about two or three inches high and a few inches wider than your box on either side, to form a platform with it in between mail box and pole. Put in a border of wood around the mail box, and fill the remaining space with soil. Put some ivy, philodendron or other vines in the soil. Or plant small flowers.

Mrs. Young suggests you may make use of a dying tree in planning an outdoor walk or patio, but this requires the services of the man of the house.

Make 4-inch thick wood slices which may be placed in an arrangement in a dirt terrace after being creosoted. These should be sunk in the ground the full four inches for best results.

Also on your handymans program could be cement slabs for the patio. These may be made with ready-mixed cement and the addition of color to be found at your local building supply store. Fill a wooden frame four inches high and required length and width with the mixture, let harden, remove.

Promises Depositors Will Get Funds

Missing Banker in Alabama Returns

CLIO, Ala. (AP)—Royall Reynolds, whose return home last night caused almost as much commotion as his departure, promised today depositors in the Merchants Exchange would get back "every penny."

The 40-year-old banker said the money would be repaid to anxious townspeople "about the first of next week."

He called reports that he had disappeared with between $80,000 and $100,000 "a damn lie."

"I told people we were going to close down," he said.

Reynolds, a Sunday school teacher and former mayor of Clio, met with reporters in his new brick home.

He referred most questions to his attorney, Jack Wallace of Clayton, Ala., but answered others readily—once with the comment "I'm talking too much."

Reynolds said he went to Atlanta with his wife, Sue, to look into a garnishment suit brought against funds of the Exchange in the First National Bank there.

He said the suit was filed by an aunt by marriage, Mrs. Veda Mae Reynolds, who reportedly had $75,000 deposited with him.

The funds in the Atlanta bank totaled $81,800, but depositors here have already signed claims for $167,000 which they said they gave Reynolds.

The first word of his return brought almost every able-bodies resident to the office of Mayor Dan Easterling, just across the main street from the Merchants Exchange, where Reynolds was president.

There were angry mutterings from a throng estimated at 300, the mayor said, but no threat of violence.

Reynolds turned himself in to Deputy Sheriff W. D. Anderson at nearby Clayton and was released in $7,500 bond. The bond was signed by his 72-year-old father, R. W. Reynolds, who had offered his life savings of $25,000 last week to relieve penniless depositors in the Merchants Exchange.

Reynolds, president of the unchartered institution, is accused specifically in three warrants of embezzling about $1,800 from two depositors, but it was estimated the town faced a loss of between $80,000 and $100,000 by his disappearance.

Reynolds' wife Sue sobbingly told a reporter by telephone soon after their return that charges against her husband were "lies."

"It'll all be cleared up. He didn't steal anything," she sobbed.

Disclaims Guilt

Reynolds himself was quoted by Solicitor Crews Johnson of Barbour County as saying, "I'm not guilty of anything in the world."

Mayor Dan Easterling said Reynolds and his wife returned to this community of 900 with missing records of the Exchange.

Frantic depositors had been unable to get at $81,800 left by the Exchange in the First National Bank of Atlanta because officials had no idea how the money should be divided.

Easterling said he did not know how much money Reynolds had with him last night, or how complete the records are. But the books are now in safekeeping, the mayor added.

Appealed for Return

The townspeople met in an emergency session a few days after the trusted banker left, and issued an appeal for him to come home or at least return the Exchange records. They promised not to prosecute if he sent them "any of the money that is left" and the record books.

About 150 families were affected. Merchants had no money to restock when the supply on their shelves was gone, and farmers couldn't buy seed for spring planting.

Calf's Taste for Sugar Betters Taste of Meat

LOGAN, Utah (UP)—A calf with a sweet tooth grows up to be a better tasting steak or roast than one that munches only grass. And it will put more "sugar" in the pocketbook of the farmer who raises it.

The scientists are conducting studies on pre-slaughter sweetening of produce animals and turkeys. Studies so far have shown that sugar-fed beef cattle, sheep, swine and turkeys may bring increases in dressing percentages, improvement in color, and increases in sugar percentages.

All this also makes for improvement in the flavor and texture of the cooked meat, tests show.

Scientists at the experiment station, which conducted about 150 other research programs during the past year, now are trying to determine the right amount of sucrose which should be fed to the animals and the length of the feeding period.

Town Mayor Feels Jail Too Enjoyable

WELLSTON, Ohio (AP) — Mayor John S. Evans yesterday announced he will henceforth commit habitual drunks to the Wellston City jail, instead of to the more comfortable, well heated and radio-equipped Jackson County jail at nearby Jackson.

Evans said he and police concluded some persons, frequently convicted of intoxication and unable to pay fines, enjoyed periodic visits to the Jackson jail.

RKO Stockholders Okay Hughes' Bid To Buy Film Firm

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Fabulous Howard Hughes, a rich man through his activities in the movie, aircraft and tool industries, was another step nearer today to sole ownership of one of the biggest firms in the film world.

Hughes, largest individual stockholder in RKO-Pictures Corp., has sought to become the only owner of that firm.

Stockholders meeting in Dover yesterday voted for his offer to buy the firm for what amounts to $6 a share of common stock. The stock was selling for less than $3.50 a share in the first five weeks of this year, prior to his (Hughes') offer of $23,489,478 for all assets of the corp.

Pending before Delaware Chancery Court in Wilmington is one more major step, a ruling on a stockholders' suit, claiming Hughes' total purchase price offer inadequate, that the firm's directors who recommended its approval failed to evaluate properly the film library, real estate and other assets.

Food License Cost Drops in Crawford

BUCYRUS — Dr. T. R. Laughbaum, director, announced today that the annual fee for non-profit organizations serving food has been reduced to $5 by the Crawford County Board of Health.

The reduction was a result of an amendment passed by the board this week.

Counties were required, under a recent provision of state law, to establish license fees for establishments and organizations serving food. On Dec. 16, 1953, the county board set the fees at $25 for commercial restaurants and lunch counters and other organizations and establishments.

Purpose of the annual charge for licenses is to finance inspection and enforcement or regulations pertaining to food organizations.

Highway Traffic Stops, Picking Up Job Starts

RAYMOND, N. H. (UP) — Ruel Webb and Fred Hargraves, state construction engineers, found various sized nails scattered along 500 feet of Route 101. They were from three smashed kegs that apparently had fallen from a passing truck.

As Webb and Hargraves conducted "Operation Nail - Pickup" on their knees, the flashing light on their state car halted motorists who began helping.

One woman brought a dishpan from her car, explaining that her husband was building a garage.

Lenten Services Stress Self-Examination Need

Midway in the season of Lent, Marion churches marking the period with special series of midweek services are increasing momentum toward the climaxing rites of Holy Week and Easter. Preparations have been started by many congregations for the special Easter programs which will be presented. The midweek services are the focal point for directing the thoughts of the worshipers toward self - examination in recognition of the need for increasing spiritual factors in their daily living.

Sacredness of Life

A Sermonette

By REV. CLYDE R. WENDELL
Pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church

"Saul took a sword and fell upon it." I Samuel 31:4.

Many strong men and women face the temptation to self-murder. About twenty thousand actual suicides occur each year in the United States and a great many times that number make suicidal attempts of varying degrees of severity. The highest rates of suicide, we are told, are in the late spring and early summer, and the lowest rates are in the winter with most of them occuring at the beginning of the week and in the early morning hours. Single men and women kill themselves more frequently than do married people, authorities claim, and divorced individuals show the highest rate of all.

Without any attempt to analyze the "whys" and "wherefores" of the above statistics the one explanation that seems to make sense in accounting for the act itself is that which relates the inner life of the individual to the outer world in which he lives. He doesn't have the inner spiritual reserves to meet the pressures which life brings him.

KING SAUL, Israel's first king presents the materials for a case study in suicide. The Hebrews rarely resorted to self-murder. Thye had such a high regard for the human body that they hesitated to destroy the handiwork of God. The Scriptures record only four cases of self-murder. Saul, the subject of our text; Ahithophel, the counselor of David, hung himself when his counsel was disregarded. Zimri, the fifth king of Israel, who reigned only a week on the royal throne, then burned his palace over him when his rival Omri attacked him there; Judas, the betrayer of the Christ, hanged himself as he in remorse contemplated the terrible results of his selling his Master for thirty pieces of silver. If these cases are typical, then one of the most frequent causes of suicide is a radical reversal of spiritual and material values.

King Saul had lost his early contacts with God. Subsequently he engaged in acts of rashness and folly which brought consequences he could not escape. Crushing military reverses along with the loss of his three sons, including Jonathan, brought shame and remorse, and as he contemplated his own capture, which seemed immunent, he turned to what he thought was the easiest way out — the taking of his own life. Josephus, the Jewish historian, writing on the wisdom of suicide, said, "He is equally a coward who will not die when he is obliged to die, and he who will die when he is not obliged to do so . . . I should esteem that pilot an arrant coward, who out of fear of a storm, should sink the ship of his own accord."

SAUL HAD DEGENERATED into that kind of a coward. He fogot others when faced with defeat and shame when he might have forgotten self, rallied his troops and heartened them. He escaped the indignities that Philistines would have heaped upon such a living captive. Imagine what certain troopers would have done if they could have captured Adolph Hitler. He seems to have averted such a fate by self-murder.

The age long questions, "Is suicide ever justifiable?" "Is it ever the easy way out?" re-occur in every generation, and the answers keep coming back to us "Easy for whom?" "Out into what?" A janitor in Columbus took his own life a few years ago by plunging from the ninth story of a building. The note he left behind said it was because: "His son was killed at Pearl Harbor. A daughter who became an army nurse lost her life in Europe. His wife died six months before leaving him with no known relatives." The coroner who investigated the incident established a precedent by calling the man's death a "justifiable suicide." Granted, the man's losses were great indeed, but others who have suffered equal, or even greater losses, bore them in the spirit of one of old who said: "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord," and carried on in such spiritual heroism that others were greatly benefited by their example.

WHY DID PASTOR Martin Niemoller give his word while in concentration camp that he would not do away with himself? It would show distrust of God, disregard for his loved ones, and disdain for his own self, made in the image of God. These are the tests that show the rightness or wrongness of any deed. How does it relate to God? to ourself? and to others"

What Saul dreaded happened to him. Even by suicide the worst indignities were heaped upon him. The Philistines cut off his head and fastened his torso to the wall at Bethshan. As with most cases of self-murder, he left others to endure the anguish of defeat and shame. Would the Hebrew people wish to remember that their first king had killed himself? Would his family circle wish to recall that their most disunguished son had done away with himself? For friends and loved ones who must live on amidst the ashes of dead hopes there is little solace — except with one who has become insane. As for the victim himself, suicide leads out into midnight darkness and despair.

In a world where suicide has become so common what is our place as Christians? We must uphold the ideals of the Scriptures with their emphasis upon the sacredness of life. We must teach the sanctity of the human body — the temple of the Holy Spirit. We must deal gently with those whose nerves have been shattered and whose hopes have been blasted, who have been driven to the brink of self-murder. And last, but not least, we must lead them to Jesus Christ who is "The Way, the Truth and the Life."

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

MME. MULDOON, YOUR CREW CONSISTS OF TWO AMERICANS—ONE OF WHOM IS ILL.... WHAT OF THESE MEN?
THEIR GREED INDUCES THEM TO FLY THE HEROIN OUT—ALTHOUGH THEY WILL PROBABLY BE UNABLE TO AGAIN OBTAIN A PILOT'S POSITION IN THE UNITED STATES...
HERE, THEN, IS YOUR WIRELESS TELEPHONE PROCEDURE FOR LEAVING THE FIELD... IT MUST BE TRANSMITTED IN YOUR VOICE! —ANY DEVIATION IN PHRASEOLOGY WILL BRING INTERCEPTORS AT ONCE
AND THEN...
YOU WILL BE ESCORTED BACK TO THIS FIELD SO THE SHIPMENT OF HEROIN MAY BE RECOVERED! OF COURSE, IF YOUR AIRCRAFT ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE IT WILL BE SHOT DOWN!.. WE WOULD LIKE TO SALVAGE THE PLANE, BUT THE DRUG DOES NOT MATTER TOO MUCH... WE HAVE PLENTY...

Socialite Lists Her Secrets of Beauty

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs. Winston Guest, famous for her fashion know-how, also has definite ideas about makeup and figure care.

A beauty as well as a fashion plate, Mrs. Guest says women eat too much, drink too much, wear their skirts too long, and are swayed too much by fads.

Mrs. Guest, wife of the socially-prominent polo player and aviation figure, is blonde and willowy. She is five feet, six and one-half inches tall, and weighs 118 pounds.

She keeps her figure by one routine — plenty of outdoor exercise and little of the fattening and rich foods.

She rides horseback whe she's at the couple's farm in Vriginia, and swims daily if she's in Palm Beach. But for the woman not blessed with stables and a beach in her front yard. Mrs. Guest says there are other ways of keeping the figure trim.

"A woman owes it to herself to find the time and the way," she said. "I do stretching and bending exercises, if I'm not going to be able to get outdoors."

Her diet features the lean meats and vegetables.

"I think most of us eat too much," she said.

She takes only an occasional cocktail, saying that in her opinion, the skin suffers from too many.

Mrs. Guest uses little makeup during the day, but adds some rouge for evening.

"Brunettes can wear more makeup than blondes," she said. "Too much color with light hair and skin gives a coarse look."

She placed second from the top on this year's list of best-dressed women, probably because of the simplicity of her clothing tastes.

"I like both simple lines and simple fabrics," she said. "I prefer navies, blacks and the pastel colors—never a harsh shade like orange.

"My skirts are about 15 inches from the floor . . . on me that's about mid-calf.

"Looking around on Fifth Avenue the other day, I decided women are wearing their skirts too long."

Not a fad follower, Mrs. Guest believes that good style changes little. She is dressed by some top names in fashion, but won't dicloe hsow much she spends a year on clothes.

"But I will tell you one thing," she said, with a laugh. "I don't buy as many as I used to. They cost too much."

In city general debt Ohio's position at $55 per capita is well under the national average of $70 per capita.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Technique for Overcoming Depression

A man consulted me who complained about everything. Without question, he was one of the most depressed, discouraged and pessimistic persons I have ever met.

DR. PEALE

He started out by telling me he came from Scarsdale, a beautiful suburb of New York. But to him it was "a terrible place," and he didn't like the people there. His house wasn't very nice, either, he went on: in fact, the builder should have been sent to jail. And, just that morning, the toaster hadn't worked at breakfast and, coming in on the train, he'd thought how sick and tired he was of riding it every day to and from business. He complained that he was just fed up with everything.

"You sound like you're sick of living," I said.

"Yes," he replied promptly. "I'd just as soon lie down and die."

THAT REMARK suggested the use of a little experiment. "I'll tell you what I want you to do," I said. "Tomorrow morning, when you get up, imagine and pretend that it is the last day you are going to live. As you lie there, trying to decide to get out of bed, tell yourself that it is the last time you are ever going to lie in that soft bed and that this is the last sleep you are ever going to wake from.

"Then, go down to breakfast and remember that it will be your last. Ask your wife to give you all the things you like best for that last breakfast. Don't read your newspaper as you usually do, but talk to your wife because you will never have the chance again.

"On your way to the station, walk slowly and take a good look at that house of yours and your town. Look at your neighbors too for that last time. On the train realize that it's your last ride to the city. Take a last glimpse of all these things you dislike, because soon you will be through with them for good and all."

HE PROMISED me that he would try this unique experiment and later he told of the results. He didn't even wait for the next day; he started at once imagining that very day was his last. He walked to Grand Central Station from my office; it was a cold, crisp day with snow underfoot. The walk made the blood run faster. It put color in his cheeks. He stopped at the bakery shop in the terminal for some coffee cake and thought, "Why am I doing this"; I won't ever eat this coffee cake." Incidentally, it had been a long time since he had taken anything home. He was too busy thinking how badly he felt.

On the way to Scarsdale, he looked out the window instead of reading the evening paper and was fascinated by the twinkling lights of towns and villages. He really found that trip a very pleasant one. Then, under a star-lit sky, along moon-bathed streets he walked home, and from a block away he could see the lights in the windows of his house. Instead of using his key when he reached his door, he rang the bell. When the door opened, there, in that golden light, was the sweetheart he had married 35 years before.

HE TOLD me, "I just grabbed her and gave her the biggest kiss of our lives. Right then and there I determined I was going to stop all my foolishness and be alive tomorrow and the next day and as long as God would grant me. 'Honey,' I said to my wife, 'we're going to have a wonderful time the rest of our lives.'"

"I know what you meant," he told me, "when I looked up that Bible passage you gave me, 'Who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light.'"

Changing your point of view, your attitude toward your life, is often a wonderful technique for overcoming depression. You can recondition your mind by the realization of how wonderful everything is, even the commonplace things which God has given us. Then the shadows of depression pass away and the bright light of new understanding restores happiness.

Ashley Village Water Storage Plan Launched

ASHLEY — First steps were taken toward construction of a water reservoir for Ashley when the village Council and water board met in joint session Thursday afternoon.

The two groups took an option to purchase about 12 acres of land east of Ashley on Route 229 as a site for the proposed reservoir. Owner of the land is Paul Bennett, Ashley implement dealer.

The village was faced with a critical water shortage last summer when the village wells, which are located on Benett's land, dried up. Water was hauled from the Delaware Reservoir to the Ashley water treatment plant for a several weeks' period and residents were using a limited amount of the supply.

Bids for the reservoir will be sought within the next week, according to Mayor Ted Anderson. A method of financing the reservoir construction has not yet been determined and will depend on the amount of bids submitted.

Plans for the reservoir are being drawn up by Floyd G. Browne and Associates, Marion engineers.

New Long Distance System Installed

Bryan, Ohio, will soon become one of the first cities in the nation to have a new long distance dial telephone system installed.

Clare E. Williams, president of General Telephone of Ohio, announced today that the company has completed arrangements with Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for starting work on the project.

The dial equipment is now being installed by workmen of the Automatic Electric Company of Chicago. It will enable Bryan long distance operators to dial calls direct to telephone exchanges in over 2,500 distant cities throughout the United States. At the time, it will also permit operators in other cities to dial calls directly to Bryan subscribers without the assistance of operators at intermediate points.

There are about 7½ million widows in the United States.

God's Peace

By REV. FREDERICK W. LEECH
Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church

"The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus."—Philippians 4:7.

The peace of God does not depend on outward conditions. Neither health nor wealth guarantee it. It is not a product of a favorable environment: it is independent of environment. Whether or not we have it may be shown by our behaviour, but it is first of all something that happens inside us. It is an inward serenity, a quiet confidence, a spiritual poise that comes from continuous comradeship with Christ. It is the calm within the soul that comes to us when we share Christ's sense of values: His fundamental trust in the Father that in the long run, all is well. It is the trust that says, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit," even while hanging on a Cross.

It is by learning to see life through Christ's eyes, and meeting the tribulations of the world in His spirit, that we win, in and through Him, the peace of God. Christian peace is not negative, not mere freedom from struggle or pain, but it is positive, born of a deep sense of security in the midst of all storms. Even nature's fiercest storms listen and obey His voice when He says, "Peace, be still." For nothing . . . but nothing . . . can separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus.

PRAYER:

Grant, O Lord, that we may enter with joy upon the meditation of those mighty acts whereby thou hast given into us life and immortality and perfect peace in Thee, through thy Risen Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

What the Duncan Hines O. K. means to thousands

Mr. Hines and his wife have probably eaten in more different restaurants in more states than any other couple in this country. Every year they do tens of thousands of miles in their own car. They drop in a restaurant, hotel, or dining car and order food. Then they make notes about the service, quality of food, and cleanliness of the establishment. Their O.K. is accepted by tens of thousands of travelers every week.

When you order breakfast or dinner here Sunday you know that you are eating in the only restaurant in Marion that has the O.K. of Duncan Hines. We are proud of his endorsement of our fine eating place.

The Cinemascope production, "How To Marry a Millionaire," a comedy in technicolor, is the current attraction through Wednesday at the Ohio Theater.

Co-starred are Marilyn Monroe, Betty Grable, Lauren Bacall, David Wayne, Roy Calhoun, Cameron Mitchell and William Powell.

The story of the picture concerns three beautiful New York fashion models who decide its as easy to love a rich man as a poor man. The three pool their resources to put on the dog in a swank rented apartment and are forced to sell most of its furnishings in order to eat. The story relates how they solve their romantic and financial dilemmas.

Starting Thursday will be a double feature, "Riot in Cell Block 11" starring Neville Brand and Emile Meyer, and "Paris Playboys" with Huntz Hall, Leo Gorcey and the Bowery Boys.

"Riot in Cell Block 11," filmed entirely at California's maximum-security Folsom Prison, is concerned with how prison riots start, their cause and outcome, and what happens to guards, officials, convicts and convict leaders before order is restored.

The picture covers some of the major 1953 prison breaks, and goes into mealtime procedure in cell block 11, the prison's punishment section where the rioting breaks out.

In "Paris Playboys," Hall is mistaken for a missing French scientist and after clarifying his identity, is employed to impersonate the missing man in his Paris home and surroundings, until the genuine scientist may return. The Bowery Boys are variously involved in the proceedings.

Saxbe made his demand in a letter to Bender in which he said "that in keeping with common political decency in our American tradition of fair play" the county chairman should resign immediately.

"In consideration of the men and women of character and dignity in the Republican party in Cuyahoga County and in the entire state, you should see fit to comply with this request," Saxbe wrote.

Watchmaker Drills Hole Through Pin

Frank Butterworth, 62, Performs Feat To Show Hand Is Still Steady

By ROBERT LISTON

His memory for dates and events has slipped a little, but his hand is just as steady as ever.

To prove it, Frank Butterworth, a watchmaker for 51 years, over 20 of them with Carrol's Jewelry Store, drilled lengthwise through a straight pin.

The pin drilling routine is not to be recommended to the amateur, or the expert, for that matter, who has the slightest quaver in his hand.

THIS IS THE third time Frank has performed the feat. The first time was in 1921. He tried it after reading in The Star about the feat of William Humans of Cambridge, Mass., who bored a hole lengthwise through a pin.

Frank says it was a much smaller hole he drilled in that one. "I doubt if I dould do it anymore. Of course, I lost the pin some place, so I guess I can't prove that I ever did it."

The second and third pin-drillings were done to prove he did the first one. It seems his son and grandson got into arguments about Franks prowess and Frank had to get them off the spot.

IF YOU'D LIKE to match the feat, here's what you'd have to do: Drill a .0007 inch hole lengthwise through a pin, head to point, it should take about an hour. That leaves the pin walls .0003 inch thick — not much margin for error. Then you take brass wire .001 of an inch thick and file it down to a .0005 inch. You insert the wire through the pin as a shaft, and then you make cotter pin of .0004 inch diameter to put through the shaft so the pin wont slide off the end.

Frank says, "Making something like this is nothing out of the ordinary. Every watchmaker should be able to do it.

What purpose does it serve? Absolutely none, except to prove to a 62-year-old watchmaker that he hasnt lost his touch.

Frank is a Manxman. He was born in the Isle of Man, located in the Irish Sea, halfway between England and Ireland.

AT THE AGE of 11 he was apprenticed to his uncle for six years to learn the watchmaking trade.

SHOWING HOW HE BORED lengthwise through a pin is Frank Butterworth, 51 years a watchmaker. The pin boring takes about an hour and is a monument to Butterworth's patience, steadiness of hand and dexterity.

Frank recalls the details vividly. He says in those days you were turned over to the trade master "body and soul, who agreed in return to feed, clothe, shelter and train you. Frank recalls how he hated it then, though now he considers his uncle one of the finest men he has ever known. The monwatchmaking duties were what irked Frank, such tasks as polishing his uncles shoes every day, scrubbing the "bathbrick" steps to the shop, and opening the shop at 7 p.m. while his benefactor came in at 9. He worked for nothing.

For two years all he did was file and shape brass wire, learning steadiness. Frank learned that part well. Then for three years he worked on clocks and the final year he got his chance at watches.

AT THE TIME of his apprenticeship, Franks father and brother had immigrated to the United States. So, when his training was over in 1909, Frank joined them in Cleveland. There he worked in a jewelry store in the Colonial Arcade, gaining experience repairing American watches.

In 1912 he took a better paying job with the old Bruce Stone Jewelry, corner of Adams and Sinclair Sts., in Toledo. He remained there for six years, including a one-year period of service in the Army. It was during this service that he became a naturalized citizen.

It was also at Toledo, in 1916, that George met, courted and married Ruth Peterman. Their first daughter, Constance, was born a year later.

BY 1918 Ruth's parents, George and Ann Peterman, had moved to Marion, so Frank and Ruth decided to join them, moving in with them at their home on E. George St. Later, Frank opened his own shop in his home at 616 N. Greenwood. St. When Carroll's Jewelry Store opened in 1934, Frank began to do their repair work. In 1942 he became their head watchmaker.

Frank's wife was killed in an auto accident about five years ago, so now he lives with his son, Frank Jr., a city fireman, at 133 Franconia Ave. His other children are Mrs. Josephine Rush of 136 Council St., Mrs. Constance Baker of 611 N. Greenwood, Marvin, now a watchmaker in Galion, Mrs. Floretta Bradshaw of Taylorville, Ill., and Mrs. Florence Owens of 634 N. Greenwood St.

McCarthy Not Likely To Last, Speaker Claims

Civil Liberties Union Head Thinks He'll Fall Victim to His Excesses

CINCINNATI (AP)—Roger N. Baldwin, national chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union, says Sen. McCarthy is not likely to last "as the country's self-appointed savior from communism."

"Like the others before, he will go down a victim of his own excesses," Baldwin said last night at meeting in the University of Cincinnati YMCA.

The Wisconsin Republican now has taken on "more than he is likely to handle," Baldwin asserted.

"He has outlawed from patriotic society the Democratic party in his speeches on 'twenty years of treason,'" he said. "He has antagonized the Republican leadership. He has taken on the Army as opponents. The great labor organizations, the Protestant churches and the liberals are on the whole in bitter opposition. With these growing adversaries, the senator is not likely long to last as the country's self-appointed savior from communism."

McCarthy, speech - making in Wisconsin, was not available for comment. But he had previously cited a 1930 report of a House committee which, he said, reported the ACLU was affiliated closely with the Communist movement in this country.

(In New York, Patrick Murphy Malin, ACLU executive director, said McCarthy apparently referred to "the old Fish committee charge, made 23 long years ago, which we have categorically denied ever since." Malin said Chairman Martin Dies of the House Un-American Activities Committee declared in 1939 the committee found no evidence the ACLU was a Communist front. He also said the activities of the civil liberties group were endorsed by many prominent leaders, including President Eisenhower.)

More than 12,000 Ohio manufacturing establishments are listed in a directory published by the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations.

Marion Man's Newest Song Recorded

'All My Life I've Waited,' Title of Tune, Reflects Feeling of Composer

"I just felt inspired when I wrote it."

That's Earl H. Coffey's comment about his latset song, "All My Life I've Waited," now in the hands of disc jockeys across the nation.

Coffey, who lives at 229 Jefferson St., has been composing songs for 35 years. Several have been published, but he believes his best chance for big-time success has arrived with his latest effort.

THE SONG WAS published by Crown Music of Hollywood and recorded on their Medley label. Sung by Donna Phillips, it shares the record with four other songs. It has been sent to disc jockeys all over the country for their reaction. If it passes this test, it will be cut on a separate side by a bigger name artist.

"It is the first song I've written that I haven't gotten tired of hearing," Coffey says.

He hadn't done much composition in the years immediately preceding this latest song. His hearing had been deteriorating and he was discouraged. But about a year ago he received a letter from the Crown people saying they had heard he was a songwriter and would like to see some of his compositions.

COFFEY SENT the best of the things he had on hand including "Carolina Moon," but he felt these were a little old-fashioned and that he could do better. So, in just two days he sat down and wrote words and music to "All My Life I've Waited." The publisher was pleased with it and assigned one of his men to orchestrate it. The record was cut and eventually released to disc kickeys the last of February.

The 62-year-old songwriter has never had a music lesson. He reads music, but by his own system. As a child he played by ear. But today he can entertain visitors by the hour sitting at the piano improvising melodies.

HE HAS PUBLISHED several of his songs himself. His first one, written in 1918, was "When I'm Grown Up Daddy." In succeeding years he wrote "In the Valley of Ohio," "Your an Angel, Dear Old Mother," which is sung often on Mother's Day, "Tennessee Dreams" and "There's A Broken Chord Some Where." All these songs he published himself with financial help from Vernon Wyrick and Everett McNabb.

Coffey is now in maintenance work at the Citizens Building, but for 17 years prior he was custodian of the First Presbyterian Church.

He is waiting as patiently as he can for his recording to become popular. "I've got a feeling I'm going to hit the jackpot on this one," he says.

EARL H. COFFEY who lives at 229 Jefferson St. plays his song "All My Life I've Waited," recently recorded by Crown records. Visible on the piano are the scores of other songs Coffey has had published.

PARENTS BEAT SON

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A Canton couple, who police say admitted they beat their 4-year-old son as a "corrective treatment for his feeble mind," pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of contributing to the neglect of a minor child. The boy, Roger Deal, is in a hospital with a skull fracture and other injuries. The parents, Howard Deal and his wife, Helen, were released on $2,500 bond each, and will be tried April 15.

Village in Ohio Sold To Realtor For $1,105,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Philadelphia man threw in an extra $5,000 as an afterthought, and won the right to buy the village of Maple Grove Park in Windham, Ohio, from the Public Housing Administration.

Philip S. Seltzer, a real estate dealer, who bid $1,105,000, was announced as the successful bidder yesterday.

Seltzer said he once lost a sealed bid by a close margin, so this time he tacked on another $5,000 before sealing his bid. He was $5,000 higher than the highest of the 26 other bidders.

The village, built by the government in 1942 for 6 million dollars, consists of 180 buildings, including 1,006 housing units, plus a shopping center. It now has a population of 4,300 and rents total more than ½ million dollars a year.

It covers 117 acres, more than 90 per cent of Windham Twp., in Portage County west of Warren.

Ohio has 874 banking outlets — 664 parent banks and 210 branches.

Cadet James Irvin Gives Talk Before Pupils at St. Mary

Cadet James N. Irvin of the class of 1956 at West Point Military Academy, spoke before the juniors and seniors of St. Mary Parochial High School Friday afternoon in the school. He also showed a film, "This Is West Point."

He told of the requirements for entrance and the activities throughout the four-year course. Basic mathematical courses, English and foreign languages make up the first year study, and mathematics, English, physics and chemistry, plus military training are included in the second year, he said. Practical courses in military instruction, instructor training and history of Europe, American and foreign government are studied in the third year course. Why Tariff Is an Issue

It didn't take more than a few get-togethers of the 17 members of the Commission on Foreign Economic Policy headed by Clarence M. Randall to reveal why the tariff always will continue to be an issue.

There is an apparently irreconcilable conflict between what is good, or seems to be good, for individual interests and what is good, or seems to be good, for collective interests.

William McKinley was the first congressmen to make a special study of tariff problems, becoming the foremost expert of his day. He learned that compromise was the only proper solution for tariff problems. In other words, the high protectors never should get as much as they demand, nor should their opponents.

The Randall Commission, as it is being called in honor of its hard-working chairman, is trying to find a middle ground for foreign economic policy—a point between people who want to exclude domestic enterprise.

Wherever the commission turns, however, it runs head-on into the credo that broad-mindedness about tariff protection may be all right for someone else but is all wrong for the person immediately concerned.

The Randall Commission is charged with responsibility for trying to effect a compromise between those who know the United States must carry on trade with the rest of the world and those who want no trade carried on which will be inconvenient to them. This is one of the key projects of the Eisenhower administration—an ambitious experiment in the application of facts and logic to a problem which always has been approached emotionally.

Familiarization Flights

If the phrase "familiarization flights" is not new, neither is the idea. It was on such a flight that two United States carrier-based planes were fired on by Czech persuit planes at the close of last week.

The U.S. planes had been on a "familiarization flight" over the Alps and their pilots inadvertently had flown over Czechoslovakia. If there had been any doubt the aerial defense of Czechoslovakia was tight and alert, the incident would have dispelled it.

No news is made if and when places are discovered in the periphery of Communist defense where the defense is not tight and alert. There are, presumably, such places, although the Kremlin is as keenly aware as the Pentagon is that the grand strategy of massive counterattack depends on being able to reach the heart of Russia from air bases in Japan, Africa, England, the Continent, Greenland and, eventually from the United States itself.

Meanwhile, carrier-based planes would be trying to reach secondary targets from starting points in the Mediterranean Ocean and the North Sea. All of these potential operations must be rehearsed endlessly in "familiarization flights." These have taken the place in large part of the vast land and sea exercises which formerly kept a nation's fighting strength in readiness for retaliation.

It is to be expected that other incidents will occur from time to time and that the incidents, themselves, will reveal much of what needs to be known by both sides; namely, that neither side would be a pushover.

The Big Winds

With the return of big winds in the tornado belt down South there will be a speedy revival of big speculation about a possible connection between tornadoes and atomic explosions.

The tornado season did not make top news last year until much later than this in late April and early May when a series of twisters devastated areas in seven southern states.

The Ohio-Michigan disasters occurred in early June, as did the disaster in Massachusetts. Texas, Nebraska and Minnesota felt the fury of the unleashed winds in the early part of May.

By the end of May, an Associated Press roundup showed there had been 103 tornadoes, 214 deaths and $146,000,000 worth of property damage. Waco, Texas, had been virtually wiped out. Following the disasters in Michigan, Ohio and Massachusetts, the death toll stood at 420.

By mid-June, there was a lively controversy going over the cause of the tornadoes. Meteorologists tended to pooh-pooh the suggestion that atmoic explosions might be stepping up the rate of tragedy from what always has been thought of as a springtime scourage largely confined to the southern states.

No one had a definite explanation for the twisters in 1953.

The misgivings of a year ago never were settled.

If the weekend tornado in Georgia proves to have been a forerunner of another season of tragedy and sudden death from big winds, the tornado controversy of a year ago will be only a warmup for the discussion of 1954.

It will be harder than ever to believe the tornadoes are being caused wholly by chance.

McCormick's Sale

By David Lawrence

Washington Weighs Its Newspaper Merger

People living outside of Washington can have little idea of the excitement which the national capital experienced as it read the announcement that Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune had sold his Washington newspaper — The Times-Herald — to the only morning competitor, The Washington Post.

Maybe if there had not been such a vigorous campaign carried on by the Washington Times-Herald against Communists in the government and if the Washington Post had not as a rule taken the other side of the argument so vigorously, the merger would have passed off with little notice.

Now demands have arisen from many Times-Herald readers for another morning newspaper, and there rumors in the air that millionaires from Texas and elsewhere are being importuned to put up the 10 to 15 million dollars which would be required to finance such a project.

Starting a new newspaper in Washington would be quite a problem for anyone, even with a big bankroll, since the Times-Herald has been losing an estimated million dollars, a year — possibly because there are too many papers dividing the market.

IT WAS FAIR to say that today there is sadness among those in and outside the government who have regarded the Times-Herald as a champion of their point of view. A feeling prevails that the anti-Communist cursade has lost its most articulate exponent in the national capital.

Just why Col. McCormick decided to sell has not been revealed, but it is generally accepted that his health has not been good. He is 73 years old, and Mrs. McCormick has been urging him to shed some of his responsibilities, especially in Washington.

The Washington Post is owned by Eugene Meyer, now 78 years old, formerly chairman of the Federal Reserve Board under the Hoover administration. He made his principal fortune in investment banking in Wall Street. Members of his family are active in the paper. The new owners paid approximately $8,500,000 for the privilege of burying their competitor on weekdays and eliminating one competing paper on Sundays.

It is believed that the purchase contract provides for the acquisition of the plant and equipment of the Times-Herald and that arrangements to dispose of the printing presses and machines to some enterprise outside of Washington have been or will be made. So any new newspaper would have a hard time starting right away, no matter how much capital it might be able to mobilize.

THOSE WHO feel that the only Washington morning paper for the President and members of Congress to read will be a paper with news items and editorials slanted to a so-called "liberal" or New Dealish point of view will have to trust to the good sense of the Post management to recognize that in the long run one - sidedness never pays where there is a monopoly.

There is always the possibility of a morning paper being issued by one of the present evening newspapers if the competitive situation should really encourage it.

The theory of the critics that only one viewpoint has been printed in the Washinton Post, both in its news and editorial columns, may be refuted by the experience in other cities where mergers have occurred.

Again and again the merged publication has recognized the wisdom of printing articles from contributors presenting a view opposite to its own editorials.

It has usually led to an elimination of bias in the handling of front page news and in a balanced selection of dispatches from the press associations, which normally cover both sides of a controversial subject in an objective manner.

Two other newspapers remain in the Washington field — The Evening Star, owned by and operated now in the main by the fourth generation of the Noyes - Kauffman-Adams family, which founded the property 101 years ago — and The Washington Daily News, owned by the Scripps - Howard chain.

THEY DO NOT publish morning editions, though the Star has a Sunday issue. It is reliably reported that neither the Star nor the Daily News intends to publish a morning edition.

People in the national capital, of course, read New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore newspapers, which reach Washington in large numbers but do not have the wide distribution through home delivery that a local newspaper would maintain.

The Evening Star, according to the latest figures of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, has an average of 234,660 daily and 264,407 on Sundays. The Times - Herald had 253,532 daily and 287,200 on Sundays. The Washington Daily News has 138,778.

The comparable Washington Post figures are 201,645 daily and 200,163 on Sundays. It is not expected that the Post will be able to retain all the Times-Herald circulation, as much of this will go to the Star, especially on Sundays when the public will have two Sunday papers to choose from — the Post and the Star.

Many readers of the Times-Herald are telling their friends they are canceling their subscriptions to the merged paper, and the Star is finding itself with an abnormally large number of new subscriptions flowing in. This probably will also be the experience of the Washington Daily News.

Agencies in advertising centers were being told, it is reported, that the Post expects to average 300,000 daily and 330,000 on Sundays. Officials of the Star and the Washington Daily News were not prepared as yet to estimate their expected increases.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: We finished the seasoh at the sugar camp last night. I have spent most of today making up the sleep I lost. But I never have had a better time, and that was the main idea.

The last night at camp a half dozen of us hung around for the finish and had a good talk. We talked chiefly about experience in connection with animals and machinery.

When all of us were driving Model T Fords we learned from experience that the coils had to be taken out of that little box on the dashboard and dried when the air was damp.

Everybody who has worked around poultry has learned from experience that if he moves at a certain speed he causes no consternation but if he moves faster than that he will cause a panic in the flock.

People who work with tractors learn about the center of gravity —where it is and how far it is safe to go in getting it off balance. People who work with horses learn the tricks of the trade. And so on.

But people don't seem to learn much about themselves, and we got to wondering about that. We specifically wondered about how long it is going to take people to quit being played for suckers by patent-medicine men who beguile them with red fire and malarkey.

All of us could remember old Doc Pizzaro when he paid his annual visit to the Corners. He would pitch his tent and put on his wagon show halfway between here and the corporation limits for a week. The farmers would come for miles around to listen goggle-eyed to his spiel, yuck-yuck at his tattered minstrels, sniff the kerosene torches and plunk down their two-bit pieces for his powders, salves and pink liquids. The old man knew all the tricks.

If we suckers ever got curious about the tape worms he used to hold up in front of us in the labeled bottles, we never let it interfere with our gullibility. The old doc told me one morning in a burst of confidence that it had made him a cynic at first but after awhile he realized people had an infinite capacity for believing anything they wanted to believe.

If it made them happy to believe they had tapeworms two feet long and could drive them out with a swig of his colored liquid he saw no harm in going along with the gag. It made a living for him, he said, and it didn't harm anyone. The one thing he insisted on was that the gunk he peddled over the tailgate of his medicine wagon had to be harmless. Most of it was tapwater with vegetable coloring added.

If Doc Pizzaro tried his racket now he'd be closed up quicker than a burglar's tool kit at sunrise. No one would take him seriously. The world has moved on. The medicine show racket has been taken over by operators with fancier nostrums to sell than vermifuges for tapeworms. But modern-day spielers are still relying on the same thing that kept Doc Pizzaro in business — that people will believe what they want to believe.

We decided there wasn't much hope of a change for the better. Things keep changing, all right, but the more they change the more they are the same. People never learn how to protect themselves from themselves.

We'll deliver the maple candy a week from next Sunday unless you get here first to pick it up. I set aside five pounds for you, which I hope will be enough. I also put away three gallons of maple syrup for your wheats. Pass around my regards where they will be appreciated

Tax Program Makes Political Sense

By Raymond Moley

In the course of Vice President Nixon's speech the other evening, he said that he had never seen the President "make a decision which was motivated by political purposes." At that point a staunch Republican, who had worked hard to elect the Eisenhower - Nixon ticket, exclaimed: "Well, he had better start being political pretty soon or we will never win another election."

That comment is true, and the place to start is here and now on the budget and taxes.

Eisenhowers' effort to cut spending leaves something to be desired, but his position on taxes as he stated it in his radio-TV address is unassailable if it can be properly put over to the American people. It is a political issue in the very best sense of that word. It is, in short, good politics.

The President as well as the vice-president should stop a practice, already too popular in Washington, of treating politice as a nasty word.

THE DEMOCRATS have launched this fight with the proposition that the key to continued prosperity is the creation of purchasing power. So far, so good. But there can be various ways of creating purchasing power.

It can be created by encouraging large, job - producing expenditures. It can be created by encouraging confidence by cutting down government expenditures. It can be created by a percentage reduction in individual income tax rates straight down the line.

All of these are sound and effective means of increasing purchasing power. But the Democrats have not adopted them. Instead, they have proposed to increase personal exemptions from $600 to $800 the first year, and to $1,000 the second year.

For reasons, only a few of which my space will permit me to describe here, this is a very bad proposal.

The mystery is why Sen. George, who is generally on public finance one of the finest and most dependable statesman in America, has proposed this plan.

WHATEVER MAY BE his reasons and however sincerely held they may be, this proposal is in line with those of the most demagogic and opportunistic members of the left side of his party.

It is based upon a theory that we are facing a genuine economic crisis for which drastic methods are essential. It is a fair bet that no such crisis is imminent. In a recent column I pointed out the false ideas of the amount of unemployment that are abroad. It also is true that we seem to be on the verge of a real building upturn of large proportions. In short, if we can give business some assurance of sound tax policies, there will be large job-making investments in many lines.

But to pass the George plan would plunge the government so far in the red that the threat of inflation would once more dry up what confidence the present administration has already produced.

In principle, moreover, the George plan would be wrong. It would exempt a very large number of Americans from paying any taxes.

IT WOULD PROMOTE a situation in which some of us must be supported by the rest of us.

It is the President's idea, and it should be every right-thinking American's idea that as many as possible should pay at least something to the support of our common government.

On the economic side it is a fallacy to believe that inflationary borrowing increases real purchasing power. More dollars are spent but there is less wealth. Wealth is made only by increased production, and increased production comes from investments.

Here is ground upon which the President and the able and popular Secretary Humphrey can stand firmly for principle.

It presents a political issue on which the Republican party can find unity and success.

The proposal to lift the exemptions is a proposal to exploit the great majority of taxpayers for the benefit of a minority.

645 Million Horsepower

By THOMAS R. HENRY

A vast source of power is being allowed to flow away untapped each day.

The source is the world's rivers —rated at 645 million horsepower in a new U.S. Geological Survey report. Water power usage has been increased by 500 per cent since 1920, the survey said.

Still only 115,793,000 horsepower are being harnessed—about a quarter of the world's potential.

Communist nations are taking the lead in water power developments now under way, the survey report indicated in its mapping of the world hydroelectric picture. True, current projects will add more than 5,000,000 horsepower to the United States' energy supply, 3,000,000 to Canada's and 1,000,000 to Australia's.

But Russia is reported to have plants under construction which will produce a total of more than 6,000,000 "new" horsepower. In China, studies are being made of a Yangtze River project with a capacity of 495,000,000 feet pounds of work a minute—some 15,000,000 horsepower.

The largest water power potential of all continents, and also the least development, is in Africa, according to the report. Harnessing of much of this force is barred by inaccessibility and remoteness from paints of possible use. In Asia too, much of the energy sources on large rivers are far from possible markets.

All nations are now surveying their own potentialities in view of the gloomy predictions that the world's supply of coal and oil are approaching exhaustion and the prospects of practical, peaceful atomic power are none too bright.

Dupring the last 30 years, the U.S. has increased its water power utilization by about 400 per cent compared to 500 per cent for the world as a whole, the report says. It also pointed out that the beginning of this measuring period, this country was already ahead of most others in utilizing its available energy sources.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Slightly Mixed Up

"Popper, why is there such a row over Joe McCarthy not getting an Army commission and Roy Cohn trying to secure a dentist's discharge for Ed Murrow in that case of the coderoom clerk, who held so much stock in trotting tracks?"

"You are a little confused, my son. I think you are referring to the Senate subcommittee dispute with Casey Stengel in the matter of refusing McCarthy weekends off in the case of Stevens versus Dragnet."

"The point that puzzles me, Popper, is how Vice President Nixon got into it when he was not even an honorably discharged major or a radio commentator and wasn't at Ford Gordon at all."

"Let me explain. The whole business of trying to locate and fire Russian spies and Kremlin buddies was easy to understand at first but has become very intricate due to a lack of traffic lights, coming elections, all - around political rivalries and acid indigestion."

"What are the simple facts, Popper? What ever became of the dentist who wouldn't even swear he was loyal but got promoted to a major and honorably discharged?"

"Oh, he's happy and undisturbed now. May do a book or Hollywood picture or something. It's the people who asked for the facts about him who are in the doghouse now."

"Is it right for Senator Potter, Dirkson, Jackson, McClellan and Symington to cancel McCarthy's boot camp training, deny statehood to Roy Cohn, declare Wisconsin an enemy country and hear charges that efforts were made to have David Schine transferred from an Army camp to a Shubert road company of 'The Student Prince' for not stopping the waterfront strike at the Caracas Conference"

"My son, you are getting your old man as confused as you are, but let me try to explain. It all began as a spy hunt. I remember vaguely that a lot of evidence was introduced showing Kremlin buddies giving Uncle Sam the works. I think there was a Hiss case. All I can make of it now is that Buffalo Bill's Wild West is being revived with an all-Washington cast, it is a sin to try to help a Harvard man get into the Army as an officer, and I think young Master David Schine, who committed the outrageous crime of aiding a spy hunt at his own expense, may be found guilty of seeking promotion without a dental college diploma. Is everything clear?"

"What about those allegedly stolen documents from the Hanford Atomic Energy Plant, Dad?"

"Don't bother with those smalltime unimportant matters, my son. It's full speed ahead in the all - important ask of finding out who slugged whom, whether there was enough blood donors to meet Senate committee casualties, what radio speech comes next, and who's got whose files. Now run out and play baseball!"

Did you notice how many radio and TV critics of Joe McCarthy completely ignored this part of the Nixon speech: "We know that the Russians got the secret of the atomic bomb three to five years before they would have gotten it because of he help of Communist spies right here in the United States. If it had not been for congressional investigations Alger Hiss WOULD BE FREE TODAY."

And we are yet to hear the McCarthy hymn of hate singers make a single reference to Mr. Nixon's words: "This administration does not agree with Mr. Truman in kissing off the Communist danger by calling it a red herring."

This column just ran into something truly incredible: a TV comedy program WITHOUT a reference to Liberace!!

"Lili," the movie starring Leslie Caron which has turned into one of the top pictures of the decade, was at first regarded as double feature stuff and when we first saw it, it was put on as incidental to a WESTERN! .. .

Wedding Vows Exchanged By Miss Tobin, Mr. Mathiot

White tapers on the mantel and bouquets of white gladioli formed the setting for the ceremony read at 1 o'clock by Rev. Edward Hudacek, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her street-length dress of white imported wool jersey was styled with a V-neckline and three-quarter length sleeves and the basque bodice was trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. Rhinestones outlined the tiny leaves bordering her small hat with which she wore a tiny veil. Her cascade bouquet was a white orchid and stock bloom held with maline ribbon.

A POWDER BLUE wool jersey costume was worn by Miss Martha Ann Tobin, who was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. The cowl neckline and belt were outlined with rhinestones and pearls and the skirt was accented with unpressed pleats. Her hat matched the color in her dress and tiny tufts of powder-blue maline were in her bouquet of pink carnations and white pompons.

Serving as best man for Mr. Mathiot was Richard Grigsby.

The reception for 150 guests was at the Women's Club Home where the receiving line was in front of the mantel. At either side was a tall basket of white gladioli and pink snapdragons and bouquets of iris, pink snapdragons and carnations were throughout the rooms. In the dining room the table was lighted with tapers in crystal candelabra and the four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was encircled with white stock bloom and huckleberry. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Haas, Mrs. Robert Sullivan, Mrs. Dennis Campton, Miss Shannon Dunn, Mrs. Howard Diehl, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Albert Young and the bride's aunts, Mrs. Glen Penry, Mrs. Ruth Calvert of Harrison, Miss Nancy Tobin of Cleveland, and Mrs. Harold Tobin.

Nationalism

By George Sokolsky

I happened to see a report of a meeting at the Y.W.C.A. in Yonkers, New York, which puzzles me no end. Dr. Ernest Kalibala of Uganda, who the report says, was a former area specialist, whatever that may be, for the United Nations trusteeship department, had been invited by the Y.W.C.A. to make a speech. According to the newspaper account, he literally bawled out everybody, including the United States and the audience.

SOKOLSKY

To the audience, he said:

"If Jesus Christ came to Yonkers, what church would he enter? In what church would He be accepted? None. He would be called a subversive person."

Of the United States, Dr. Kalibala said that American money and arms are blocking world peace. Of American leadership, he said that there was a deficit of statesmen. ". . .you cannot get world peace by spending money and men without producing world leaders."

—:—

OF RUSSIA, HE SAID: "'There is a vacuum in Europe. Russia is there to fill it.' Later he added, 'Communists are here to stay. Nothing the United States can do will wipe them out. Russia has more to say in Asia than you have. To solve that problem, the need is for more statesmen.'"

Of the Mau Muas, he said: ". . .the Mau Maus there are killing the white people, and that is the only thing preventing the world from forgetting Africa!"

Then the "Yonkers Herald Statesman" added:

"Some among his hearers expressed a feeling of penitence, and asked what they might do as individuals to help the cause of world peace and the cause of freedom in Africa."

What was there to be penitent about? Why do Americans enjoy listening to their country and their leaders being berated by foreigners? When Dr. Kalibala said that our leaders today are "only military men," he was criticizing President Eisenhower. In this news account, not one word appears to show that anyone rose to criticize this foreigner's bad manners in attacking a country which offered him its unrestricted hospitality. Those who continue to say that our freedoms are being restricted have here an excellent example of a foreigner attacking our country, our President and an audience in utter freedom, without either official restraint or the inhibitions of good manners. And some in the audience expressed penitence!

THERE IS MUCH of this going on in the United States, foreigners coming here from all sorts of countries to exhort us to dislike our own country, or to influence us to oppose a position taken by an American administration and to favor the position adopted by some other country. For many years, the Indians have conducted such a propaganda in the United States. I receive pamphlets, booklets, broadsides and all sorts of printed matter, some expensively gotten up, most of it telling how superior some country's policy is to that of the United States.

I suppose in a free country everything is possible, but I wonder whether, let us say, the British or the French would welcome an American traveling about their country criticizing its government, its leaders or even its people? How much of this do we need to take to preserve our free institutions?

THOSE WHO ARE anxious about our civil liberties are right. In a period of concern over infiltration and corruption, it is possible to move into proscription and from that into an abandonment of civil rights. Those who fight Communists need to remember that the only reason for opposition to them is that they are opposed to the dignity of man; that they eliminate human liberties from society; that they reduce man to a thing. If, in fighting them and their ideas, we are forced to adopt their concept of society, then they have conquered us spiritually if not physically. We accept their methods while opposing them.

It is this problem which has caused a schism in our society. Vituperation, innuendo, insult offer no solution. This is nothing for small, bigoted minds, nor for those who hope to earn a dollar or a career out of our disturbances. It requires a broad study of the techniques employed by Russia to destroy nations by infiltration and the imitation of those methods by other nations. It requires the working out of a formula for the protection of our country without losing our rights and liberties.

Court Orders School Board To Open Books

Newspaper Examines Minutes for Facts on South Point Dispute

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—City Editor Clarence Pennington of the Ironton Tribune, armed with a court order, finally got a look last night at part of the minutes of a South Point School Board meeting, but he hasn't found out yet why the board fired two teachers.

Pennington got a peremptory writ of mandamus from Common Pleas Judge Warren S. Earhart, ordering Rex Miller, school board clerk, to open the minutes to Pennington. Miller had previously turned down three requests by the city editor to see the books.

The action requesting the writ was based on Ohio law 3313.26 which says: "The clerk of the board of education shall record the proceedings of each meeting in a book to be provided by the board for that purpose, which shall be a public record. The record of proceedings at each meeting of the board shall be read at its next successive meeting, corrected and approved, which approval shall be noted in the proceedings."

Earlier the basis for the writ had been attributed to a new state law which requires all meetings of state boards and minutes of such boards to be available to the public. That law, however, does not apply to the Ironton case inasmuch as the school board was not a state board.

Students at South Point High School went on strike last week to protest the firing of the two teachers, one of whom was a coach. The board refused to say why the two were fired.

The striking students gained the support of some adults, who sent a delegation to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, asking him to intervene. The governor declined and said they should seek relief at the polls. Lausche condemned the student strike as not consonant with democratic ideals.

A South Point minister charged the teachers were fired because the coach refused to put the son of Ennis Austin, a school board member, on the first string basketball team.

There were reports citizens were getting legal advice on removal action against Austin, board President William Butcher and Miller, the clerk and member. Removal action must be instituted by a petition bearing at least 15 per cent of the signatures of voters in the last gubernatorial election.

Ohio Bell Fails To Get Support For Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. failed yesterday—in a secret conference with attorneys for most of Ohio's major cities—to soften the cities opposition to the company's request for a nine million dollar rate increase.

After the secret session, attorneys for Dayton, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Toledo, Cleveland, Springfield, Lancaster and Columbus decided to oppose the company's rate request before the Ohio utilities commission.

Chalmers P. Wylie, Columbus city attorney, said protests to the commission would contend Ohio Bell is already earning a fair profit, and the rate increase would be unjust to Ohio Bell's customers in their cities.

At the secret session with two Ohio Bell officials, the city attorneys decided not to negotiate with the company at this time, although they did not close the door on future negotiations.

Both the company officials and the city attorneys agreed to bar the press from yesterday's conference. None of the three state utilities commissioners attended the conference.

An estimated 36,000 vehicles a day will use the Ohio Turnpike when its entire 241 miles is open to traffic.

On Whose Side?

By Victor Riesel

The tumultuous and controversial union which planned the unionization of department stores across the country is probably in its last days as an independent organization. This outfit, the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers, which aroused Texas last winter with its organizational blitz of Port Arthur, the Lone Star State's oil and chemical center, has just about completed negotiations for re-entering CIO. It bolted CIO in the days when the union followed the Communist line.

RIESEL

It left with 15,000 members and is returning with 50,000 dues-payers, plus assets estimated at well over $10,000,000 in Florida and New York real estate, Wall Street investments, a night club, restaurants, buildings and a private department store. It plans to break up its national organization into local unions and affiliate with the CIO Reail, Wholesale and Department Store Union. Some of its officials will quit. One will get one of the three top posts in the enlarged unit — perhaps the secretary-treasurership.

Then plans for a national department store and retail outlet drive in the major cities will be implemented . . .

President Eisenhower's demand for a secret vote of unionists before a strike is called has received support from an influential union chief, Guy Brown, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. . . . Non-union open pit mine operators in central Pennsylvania have a file of several hundred carefully screened ex-GIs. The operators consider these men a sort of Minute-Man army which they can raise on short notice to fight off Miners' Union organizing caravans which have swept into the district in the past. . .

Result is that Pennsylvania's Gov. Fine now has his state police alerted on several fronts because he doesn't want warfare. The state police are looking for the men who've bombed mining property in the western and central sectors. The governor has also been asked by the Pennsylvania Dress Manufacturers' Association to "re-double" state police efforts to run down the New York-New Jersey-Pennsylvania mobs which have dynamited eastern Pennsylvania shops. The mobs want to take over and shake down the association.

Suspicion leads directly to the old Murder, Inc., gang, which controlled much of the garment industry during the days of Lepke and Gurrah. The Dress Association is getting strong support from David Dubinsky's crusading AFL International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, which has its own built-in anti-racketeering department.

SCORES OF FORMER pro-Communist and left-wing entertainers and movie stars have constantly complained that it is unfair to blame them for having become entangled with the Soviet front organizations and propaganda drives in the past—because these were so skillfully disguised, and the actors were, oh so busy.

Well, in the past few weeks the Crusade for Freedom has been operating a publicity exhibit in New York's Times Square. The Crusade for Freedom has erected a simulated radio tower to get money and support for the truly wondrous anti-Communist Radio Free Europe. They called for the stars to come out and broadcast daily appeals for support in that crowded area.

But although there are on Broadway today literally some 75 top performers, once in Communist front organizations giving their all for that cause, only one of them turned out to give Radio Free Europe a few minutes of her high-priced time to fight the enemy. All right, from now on they can no longer claim they didn't know how to unmake their pro-Commie records. That tower stuck up in front of them as they went to the theaters and broadcasting studios every day.

Whose side are they on?

Hope for Homely

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Sometimes a homely girl will say defensively:

"I wish I had the portrait of Whistler's Mother tattooed on my forehead. That might make me more interesting to look at."

HAL BOYLE

This attitude is wrong.

Patricia Medina, a British actress, said the other day that homely men were much more fun on dates than "the pretty boys." She found they had a better sense of humor, were more attentive, less conceited and put more effort in their wooing.

THIS, OF COURSE, is no news to us homely Joes. We have known it ever since the first caveman grew a wart on his nose and then, by sheer force of character, turned it into a social and business asset. A man with a wart on his nose is bound to be remembered—and being remembered is the biggest problem in getting ahead in this busy world.

What is true of a homely man is just as true of a homely girl. She stands out from the crowd, and this gives her a chance to demonstrate what real talent she may have. Those who pause to laugh at her for the moment may remain to admire her through the years.

A beautiful bachelor girl once asked me, after looking around a roomful of guests at a party:

"Why do so many successful men seem to have such homely wives?"

The only tactful reply I could think of was:

"Most successful men are probably near-sighted."

But I doubt if she heard me. She was studying herself in a wall mirror.

That is the trouble with so many lovely ladies. Being beautiful is a career with them. But no girl makes a full time job of being homely. A homely girl has time to listen to a man tell his dreams, time to help him achieve his dreams, and that is probably why men who are successful so often do have charming homely wives.

A woman who has a face she finds herself unable honestly to fall in love with must, if she is normal, express her human love in other ways and other lives—and she generally gets a richer reward, a bigger payoff, in the end.

She will also probably find that her ugly duckling face, that saddened her as a girl, will mature, as she does, into something better. Time is the enemy of the merely beautiful; it is the friend of the homely. Homely faces weather the ruinous years better than beautiful faces, unless they be carved in cameo.

THE OLDER a homely woman grows the less reason she has to fear her mirror. But to a once beautiful woman a mirror is a tragic reproach. All the arts of the drugstore and the beauty salon cannot restore the image it once held. And since the mirror has been her life, what has she left?

A homely girl today has one more consolation in her dour hour. People are living longer now. This makes physical beauty less important in a lifetime. It is of real significance to a woman from the age of 15 to perhaps 45 at most, less than half the years she lives.

At any age a homely woman who has learned how to be attractive has an edge over a woman who has beauty and nothing else. Her advantage grows with the years.

After 45 a woman who has depended on beauty alone to carry her through life could tattoo the Star Spangled Banner on her forehead—and still fail to make men snap to attention.

As Cleopatra, reportedly a homely girl herself, probably would put it:

"It ain't how a gal looks that's important—it's who she can get to look after her."
